IMPORTANT CONFERENCE HELD

Carmi A. Thompson Arrives Hastily
From Washington and is Closeted
With A. I. Vorys and L. C. Laylin.
Denies That He Was Sent Post-
Haste to Iron Out Ohio Situation.
Burton Expected on Scene at Any Moment to Act as Chairman.

Columbus, O., May 31.—Several
facts stand out prominently in Ohio
politics. One is that President Taft
has determined to stand pat to the
last in his fight to capture the Republican state convention next week
and to accept no compromise. This is shown by his telegram to National Committeeman Vorys. Another is that Colonel Carmi A. Thompson, assistant secretary of the interior, arrived in Columbus for the purpose of
assisting wavering delegates into the Taft bandwagon.

One of these is that Senator Theodore E. Burton may be speeding toward Ohio within a few hours to pre-
side as temporary chairman at the convention which may mark the end
of his power in Ohio.

Confers With Ohio Leaders.

Colonel Thompson arrived from Washington and immediately took up
the situation with Messrs. Vorys and
L. C. Laylin. They were in consultation for some time, but no statement
was made as to results of their discussion. Mr. Thompson denied that he had been sent post-haste from Washington to iron out the convention situation.

What President Taft thinks of the outlook is shown by his telegram to
Mr. Vorys:

"I hope my friends will not consider for a moment the suggestion of a compromise in the state convention.
The votes involved are not necessary
to my nomination. I can stand their loss and am content to be beaten in Ohio, but I can not yield my votes
by agreement."

"The principles that we represent
are too important to the country to
lose anything by our voluntary concession. I hope, therefore, that you
and my friends will press the contest
to the end of the state convention."

New York Baby Freak Three Bodies One Head

Baby Born to Poughkeepsie Woman
Is Freak of Nature.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 31.—The
birth here of a child with one head
and three bodies is said by physicians to be one of the greatest phenomena in the history of medical
science. The child was born to Mrs.
Joseph Muckenaupt. Two of the bodies, males, had arms, but were without legs. These were joined together and both were attached to a third normal baby girl at the mouth. To save the girl, surgeons entered the pipe which attached the males to the female and in so doing
were compelled to remove a portion
of the female child's tongue.

The abnormal bodies attached to
the normal child were alive and
breathing, taking air through the pipe which connected with the normal child's mouth. To save the normal baby the surgeon sacrificed the lives of the others. The operation was performed on the kitchen table
at the Muckenaupt home very soon
after the birth.

WILBUR WRIGHT

Aeroplane Inventor Who Died at Home in Dayton.

WRIGHT SOUL TAKES FLIGHT

Wright Conquered Air, but Surren-
dered to Grim Reaper.

Dayton, O., May 31.—Fighting death
with the grim determination and indefatigable energy that characterized
his conquest of the air, Wilbur
Wright, noted aviator passed away
at the family home. He was surrounded by his venerable father,
Bishop Milton Wright; sister Wath-
erine and brothers Orville, Lorin and Reuschlin. Dr. D. B. Conklin was
also present when the end came.

Bishop Milton Wright once found
an odd mechanical toy, which he took
home to his two boys. He released
it from his hands and, instead of falling to the floor at once, the toy glided
about the room like a butterfly.

That was about 30 years ago. The boys were Wilbur and Orville Wright.
From that mechanical toy they got
their first germ of enthusiasm over
the problem of the air.

About 1897 they first began to study the problem of flying, and for
their scientific amusement built airships during leisure hours. At first they had no thought of making it
their life's work.

Their triumphs since that time
have filled the newspapers. They
have commanded attention at home
and abroad, the war departments of
all nations have hungered for their ideas. Their machine is covered with patents in all the civilized countries.
They have been decorated with medals by foreign powers and their own
state and city. They have won large purses of money in successful flights.
Both were wealthy, although they spent large sums in perfecting their invention.

Be thrifty on little things like
bluing. Don't accept water for bluing.
Ask for Red Cross Ball Blue,
the extra good value blue.

Roosevelt Turned Down On Tickets To Convention

Had Requested 250 For Use of Family and Friends.

Chicago, May 31.—A row over
tickets to the Republican national convention in Chicago has developed
over a demand made by Chairman
Dixon of the Roosevelt forces for 250
for the use of Colonel Roosevelt and
his family.

Colonel Harry S. New, chairman of
the subcommittee on arrangements,
has refused the request from Senator
Dixon. Colonel New explained that
in other conventions the national committee never recognized candidates in issuing tickets. Four years ago 150 tickets were given to President Roosevelt, but none was issued
for Mr. Taft. This year the committee has arranged for 150 tickets to be given to President Taft for his
friends, cabinet officers and government officials, but no provision has been made for the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt.

Senator Dixon has sent a scorching
letter to Colonel New, in which he says: "I shall not permit you as an individual partisan to arrogate to yourself the final disposition of this
very reasonable request, but shall
immediately lay the matter before
each individual member of the Republican national committee."

TALKS OF GUINEA PIGS

Colonel Roosevelt Compares Brains
to Fitzgerald's Auditors.

Gettysburg, May 31.—Only men
with brains of "three guinea-pig
power," according to Colonel Roosevelt, can take serious heed of Congressman Fitzgerald's speech about
the colonel. Mr. Fitzgerald read what purported to be a memorandum of President Roosevelt relating to alterations to the White House "to be permanent during my lifetime."

"Mr. Fitzgerald's accusation, or the implied accusation, is too preposter-
ous to need any serious discussion,"
said Colonel Roosevelt here. "Just as
machinery can be expressed in terms
of horsepower, so some intellects
can be expressed in terms of guinea-
pig power. That kind of accusation
can only be heeded by men with brains of about three guinea-pig
power."

Baby Dromedary In London Zoo And His Juvenile Admirers

ONE of the most popular of the sights of London is the zoo adjoining Regent's park, which boasts one of the finest wild animal collections in the world. Many of the beasts and birds are gifts of the royal family, for King George and King Edward, like the presidents of the United States—particularly like the last but one—have frequently been the recipients of what would have proved "white elephants" if they had been obliged to maintain them in private collections. One of the most recent arrivals at the zoological gardens is the baby dromedary, born of a mother in captivity. The interesting infant is a great drawing card, particularly to the juvenile patrons of the gardens. It may be worth stating that the variety of camel with one hump is called a dromedary, while two humps entitle their possessor to the title of Bactrian camel, so named from the country of its origin, in Central Asia.

Havana, May 31.—Intervention by
the United States is assured by the burning of the buildings of the Spanish-American Iron company at Daquiri, near Santiago. If marines have not already landed to protect American property, they will do so within
the next few hours.

The successful attack on the iron
company's headquarters at Daquiri,
which is only 20 miles from Santiago
and within easy communication by
telephone and rail, shows the inability of the Cuban authorities to protect American property.

The company's officers were promised that an adequate guard would
be supplied for their property and they had a tug waiting at Guantanamo in response to the Cuban government's request to transport the defensive forces. They were informed at that time, however, that the forces would be sent overland, but
they have not arrived.

This failure of the government to
send troops was responsible for the success of the rebels in their attack.
They overpowered the seven guards
of the company and then set fire to
the buildings of the American company. They also burned the buildings of the company at La Playa.

Italian-American Had Completed 490

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Joe

up and shouted with all his might
when he saw that De Palma was losing the race. The game Italian
crossed the tape with his engines
puffing like a locomotive. He made
one lap at low speed, and Dawson
passed him twice. De Palma kept on and finally his engine went dead
on the rear stretch. De Palma and his mechanic, C. T. Jeffkins, pushed the heavy car for more than a
mile around the track and stopped
at the pit, unable to re-enter the race. In the meantime Dawson was beating it, and when the crowd realized that he was about to win, the people were almost in a state of frenzy.

Tetzlaff Finishes Second.

Tetzlaff was second, and Hughie
Hughes, in a Mercer, flashed over
the line third.

The speedway record for 100 miles
was broken when De Palma covered
the distance in 1:13:01. The old record was 1:14:29, made by Tetzlaff in
a Lozier at Los Angeles, March 19,
1911. The intrepid Italian-American
led the field at the half-way point in
the race by reeling off the 250 miles
in 3:03:34. The best previous time
was 3:17:34, made by David Bruce
Brown in his Fiat here last year.

De Palma also beat the 300 miles
speedway record, making the distance in 3:43:21, and beating Harrison's last year by 18:04, and at 350
miles he was leading the race, his
time being 4:19:35, or 22:25 better
than last year.

The most serious accident of the
day occurred when McFarland car
No. 23, was smashed near the judges'
stand. Both the driver, Mel Marquette, and his mechanic, Fowler,
Connersville men, escaped without a scratch. The car was just rounding
the north turn when the right rear
wire wheel collapsed. The car dashed up the banked incline and the
right front wheel was smashed
against the cement protecting wall.
Fowler was thrown out, but regained
his presence of mind and escaped
several cars following.

Long on Promises.
The Cuban foreign office has been
profuse in its promises of protection
to American property, but it has not

carried out these assurances, primarily because it is not able to do so. It has not got the requisite number of troops and, moreover, the conduct of
affairs at the front has been chaotic
owing to the conflicting orders sent
by President Gomez and General
Monteagudo, the commander-in-chief
of the armed forces, who is now on
the scene himself. The government ordered General Mendieta to attack
the rebels in force while General Mon-
teagudo sent word to await his arrival. The government tried to explain General Mendieta's delay in attacking the rebels under Estenoz and Ivonne by saying that he was forced to detach many of his men to protect foreign property. This is exploded by the fact that the properties have not been protected. The officers of the Spanish-American Iron company have sent urgent appeals to Minister Arthur Beaupre for protection, as they fear that the rebels will return and cause more damage. The reports here are to the effect that the rebels are continually
circulating about the neighborhood
of Daquiri.

The newspaper El Mundo editorial-
ly insists that the United States is bound to maintain European civilization in Cuba. This has been impossible since the expulsion of Spain without a strong protectorate. The paper
says a protectorate would prevent
instead of suppressing these uprisings. It goes on to state that if the negro plan for a simultaneous uprising everywhere had not been discovered there would have been the
most awful massacre and all the horrors of a race war. It says that an unprotected republic in which
there is so large an element of ignorant blacks, who have the right of
suffrage and equality with the whites,
is impossible hereafter since the race
feelings have been so bitterly stirred.

The secretary of war confirms the
report that there was a big fight between the rebels under Ivonne and
the federals commanded by General
Mendieta. Details are eagerly awaited.

The Presna says that Secretary
Knox, in view of the squabbling
among the Cuban commanders, has ordered Colonel Karmany, commanding the marines at Guantanamo, to assume command of the campaign of the Cuban forces.

Moment to Act as Chairman.

Columbus, O., May 31.—Several
facts stand out prominently in Ohio
politics. One is that President Taft
has determined to stand pat to the
last in his fight to capture the Republican state convention next week
and to accept no compromise. This
is shown by his telegram to National Committeeman Vorys. Another is
that Colonel Carmi A. Thompson, assistant secretary of the interior, arrived in Columbus for the purpose of
assisting wavering delegates into the Taft bandwagon.

One of these is that Senator Theodore E. Burton may be speeding toward Ohio within a few hours to pre-
side as temporary chairman at the
convention which may mark the end
of his power in Ohio.

Confers With Ohio Leaders.
Colonel Thompson arrived from Washington and immediately took up
the situation with Messrs. Vorys and
L. C. Laylin. They were in consultation for some time, but no statement
was made as to results of their discussion. Mr. Thompson denied that
he had been sent post-haste from Washington to iron out the convention situation.

outlook is shown by his telegram to
Mr. Vorys:
"I hope my friends will not consider for a moment the suggestion of a
compromise in the state convention.
The votes involved are not necessary
to my nomination. I can stand their loss and am content to be beaten in Ohio, but I can not yield my votes
by agreement."

"The principles that we represent
are too important to the country to
lose anything by our voluntary concession. I hope, therefore, that you
and my friends will press the contest
to the end of the state convention."

Is Freak of Nature.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 31.—The
birth here of a child with one head
and three bodies is said by physicians to be one of the greatest phenomena in the history of medical
science. The child was born to Mrs.
Joseph Muckenaupt. Two of the babies, males, had arms, but were without legs. These were joined together and both were attached to a four-pound normal baby girl at the mouth. To save the girl, surgeons severed the pipe which attached the babies to the female and in so doing
were compelled to remove a portion
of the female child's tongue.
The abnormal bodies attached to
the normal child were alive and
breathing, taking air through the mouth which connected with the normal child's mouth. To save the normal baby the surgeon sacrificed the three of the others. The operation
was performed on the kitchen table
at the Muckenaupt home very soon
after the birth.

WILBUR WRIGHT

Aeroplane Inventor Who Died at Home in Dayton.

WRIGHT SOUL TAKES FLIGHT

Wright Conquered Air, but Surren-
dered to Grim Reaper.

Dayton, O., May 31.—Fighting death
with the grim determination and indefatigable energy that characterized
his conquest of the air, Wilbur
Wright, noted aviator passed away
at the family home. He was surrounded by his venerable father,
Bishop Milton Wright; sister Wath-
Reuschlin. Dr. D. B. Conklin was
also present when the end came.

Bishop Milton Wright once found
an odd mechanical toy, which he took
home to his two boys. He released
it from his hands and, instead of falling to the floor at once, the toy glided
about the room like a butterfly.

That was about 30 years ago. The
boys were Wilbur and Orville Wright.
From that mechanical toy they got
their first germ of enthusiasm over
the problem of the air.

About 1897 they first began to
study the problem of flying, and for
their scientific amusement built air-
ships during leisure hours. At first
they had no thought of making it
their life's work.

Their triumphs since that time
have filled the newspapers. They
have commanded attention at home
and abroad, the war departments of
all nations have hungered for their
ideas. Their machine is covered with
patents in all the civilized countries.
They have been decorated with med-
als by foreign powers and their own
state and city. They have won large prizes of money in successful flights.
Both were wealthy, although they
spent large sums in perfecting their
invention.

Be thrifty on little things like
bluing. Don't accept water for bluing.
Ask for Red Cross Ball Blue,
the extra good value blue.

Had Requested 250 For Use of Family and Friends.

Chicago, May 31.—A row over
tickets to the Republican national convention in Chicago has developed
over a demand made by Chairman
Dixon of the Roosevelt forces for 250
for the use of Colonel Roosevelt and
his family.

Colonel Harry S. New, chairman of
the subcommittee on arrangements,
has refused the request from Senator
Dixon. Colonel New explained that
in other conventions the national
committee never recognized candidates in issuing tickets. Four years
ago 150 tickets were given to President Roosevelt, but none was issued
for Mr. Taft. This year the committee has arranged for 150 tickets to
be given to President Taft for his
friends, cabinet officers and government officials, but no provision has
been made for the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt.

Senator Dixon has sent a scorching
letter to Colonel New, in which he
individual partisan to arrogate to
yourself the final disposition of this
very reasonable request, but shall
immediately lay the matter before
each individual member of the Republican national committee."

TALKS OF GUINEA PIGS

Colonel Roosevelt Compares Brains
to Fitzgerald's Auditors.

Gettysburg, May 31.—Only men
with brains of "three guinea-pig
power," according to Colonel Roosevelt, can take serious heed of Congressman Fitzgerald's speech about
the colonel. Mr. Fitzgerald read what
purported to be a memorandum of President Roosevelt relating to alterations to the White House "to be permanent during my lifetime."

"Mr. Fitzgerald's accusation, or the implied accusation, is too preposter-
ous to need any serious discussion,"
said Colonel Roosevelt here. "Just as
machinery can be expressed in terms
of horsepower, so some intellects
can be expressed in terms of guinea-
pig power. That kind of accusation
can only be heeded by men with
brains of about three guinea-pig
power."

ONE of the most popular of the sights of London is the zoo adjoining
Regent's park, which boasts one of the finest wild animal collections
in the world. Many of the beasts and birds are gifts of the royal family, for King George and King Edward, like the presidents of the United States—particularly like the last but one—have frequently been the recipients of what would have proved "white elephants" if they had been obliged to maintain them in private collections. One of the most recent arrivals at the zoological gardens is the baby dromedary, born of a mother in captivity. The interesting infant is a great drawing card, particularly to the juvenile patrons of the gardens. It may be worth stating that the variety of camel with one hump is called a dromedary, while two humps entitle their possessor to the title of Bactrian camel, so named from the country of its origin, in Central Asia.

Intervention Seems To Be Sure Now Cubans Run Wild

Cuban Rebels Apply Torch to American Property.

IRON WORKS LAID IN RUINS

Gomez Government Seems Powerless
to Suppress Acts of Vandalism on Part of Negro Insurgents and Marines May Be Landed to Protect American Interests—Havana Journal Declares United States Should Maintain Order in Island Republic.

Havana, May 31.—Intervention by
the United States is assured by the
burning of the buildings of the Spanish-American Iron company at Daquir, near Santiago. If marines have not already landed to protect American property, they will do so within
the next few hours.

The successful attack on the iron
company's headquarters at Daquiri,
which is only 20 miles from Santiago
and within easy communication by
telephone and rail, shows the inability of the Cuban authorities to protect American property.

The company's officers were promised that an adequate guard would
be supplied for their property and they had a tug waiting at Guantamo
in response to the Cuban government's request to transport the defensive forces. They were informed at that time, however, that the
forces would be sent overland, but
they have not arrived.

send troops was responsible for the success of the rebels in their attack.
They overpowered the seven guards
of the company and then set fire to
the buildings of the American company. They also burned the buildings of the company at La Playa.

Long on Promises.

The Cuban foreign office has been
profuse in its promises of protection
to American property, but it has not

carried out these assurances, primarily because it is not able to do so. It has not got the requisite number of
troops and, moreover, the conduct of
affairs at the front has been chaotic
owing to the conflicting orders sent
by President Gomez and General
Monteagudo, the commander-in-chief
of the armed forces, who is now on
the scene himself. The government
ordered General Mendieta to attack
the rebels in force while General Mon-
teagudo sent word to await his arrival. The government tried to explain General Mendieta's delay in attacking the rebels under Estenoz and Ivonne by saying that he was forced to detach many of his men to protect foreign property. This is exploded by the fact that the proprieties have not been protected. The officers of the Spanish-American
Iron company have sent urgent appeals to Minister Arthur Beaupre for
protection, as they fear that the rebels will return and cause more dam-
age. The reports here are to the effect that the rebels are continually
circulating about the neighborhood
of Daquiri.

The newspaper El Mundo editorial-
ly insists that the United States is
bound to maintain European civilization in Cuba. This has been impossible since the expulsion of Spain without a strong protectorate. The paper
says a protectorate would prevent
instead of suppressing these upris-
ings. It goes on to state that if the
negro plan for a simultaneous up-
rising everywhere had not been discovered there would have been the
most awful massacre and all the
an unprotected republic in which
there is so large an element of ignor-
ant blacks, who have the right of
suffrage and equality with the whites,
is impossible hereafter since the race
feelings have been so bitterly stirred.

The secretary of war confirms the
report that there was a big fight between the rebels under Ivonne and
the federals commanded by General
Mendieta. Details are eagerly awaited.

The Presna says that Secretary
Knox, in view of the squabbling
among the Cuban commanders, has
ordered Colonel Karmany, commanding the marines at Guantano, to assume command of the campaign of
the Cuban forces.

HOOSIER TAKES THE BIG RACE

Dawson Wins When De Palma's Engine Breaks.

CROWD WORKED INTO FRENZY

Italian-American Had Completed 490
Miles Over Indianapolis Speedway
and Accident Happens When Victory Is in Sight—Nearest Competitor Seizes Opportunity and Makes Most Spectacular Finish Ever Seen
on Any Track.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Joe
Dawson, driving a National entry, finished first in the second annual 500-mile race at the speedway, winning one of the most spectacular races in motor history. The time was 6:31:06, an average of 78.8 miles an hour. The average for last year's race was 74.59 miles an hour.

A great ovation was given Dawson
at the wheel of the National car No.
8 when he finished the 500-mile race.
Apparently Ralph De Palma had a victory sewed up and after running 490 miles, within 10 miles of the tape, he was forced to abandon the race. Joe Dawson was about five laps behind De Palma when the engine trouble came, and from that time on, when he saw that his rival was crippled, he drove one of the most sensational races ever seen on a racecourse. Dawson was a great favorite. In the crowded stand there was the wildest kind of excitement
when they saw that the Indianapolis man had a chance. Everyone stood

up and shouted with all his might
when he saw that De Palma was
losing the race. The game Italian
crossed the tape with his engines
puffing like a locomotive. He made
one lap at low speed, and Dawson
passed him twice. De Palma kept on and finally his engine went dead
on the rear stretch. De Palma and
his mechanic, C. T. Jeffkins, push-
ed the heavy car for more than a
mile around the track and stopped
at the pit, unable to re-enter the
race. In the meantime Dawson was beating it, and when the crowd realized that he was about to win, the people were almost in a state of frenzy.

Tetzlaff Finishes Second.

Tetzlaff was second, and Hughie
Hughes, in a Mercer, flashed over
the line third.

The speedway record for 100 miles
was broken when De Palma covered
the distance in 1:13:01. The old record was 1:14:29, made by Tetzlaff in
a Lozier at Los Angeles, March 19,
1911. The intrepid Italian-American
led the field at the half-way point in
the race by reeling off the 250 miles
in 3:03:34. The best previous time
was 3:17:34, made by David Bruce
Brown in his Fiat here last year.

De Palma also beat the 300 miles
speedway record, making the distance in 3:43:21, and beating Har-
rison's last year by 18:04, and at 350
miles he was leading the race, his
than last year.

The most serious accident of the
day occurred when McFarland car
No. 23, was smashed near the judges'
stand. Both the driver, Mel Mar-
quette, and his mechanic, Fowler,
Connersville men, escaped without a
scratch. The car was just rounding
the north turn when the right rear
wire wheel collapsed. The car dashed up the banked incline and the
right front wheel was smashed
against the cement protecting wall.
Fowler was thrown out, but regained
his presence of mind and escaped
several cars following.

BEHIND THE BARS ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Dr. E. L. Hickman, 50, Said to Have One Too Many Wives and Must Do Some Explaining.

FAMILY ROW CAUSES EXPOSE

Woman From Mansfield Poses as Wife Number One and Man is Dumbfounded When She Appears Here and Confronts Him.

Because he is alleged to be too much married, Dr. E. L. Hickman, aged about 50 years, was locked up in the county jail Thursday evening to face a bigamy charge, the claim being made that Hickman not only has a wife in this city, but also one in Mansfield, and both wives have apparently decided that they are not particular about longer holding the title.

It seems that some time ago a woman named Hickman, of Mansfield, Ohio, wrote to the police in this city, asking the whereabouts of Dr. E. L. Hickman, and when she learned that he was here, she came to this city and sent for Hickman, who visited her at one of the hotels, and was dumbfounded when he saw who it was.

At that time wife No. 1 did not care to prosecute, but after a lengthy chat with the man she claimed as her husband, she returned to Mansfield and Hickman returned to wife No. 2, who was married to Hickman in this city on November 20, 1911, under the name of Sarah Richason, and who was married upon three previous occasions, the first husband's name being Young, the second Gains and the third Richason, it is claimed. All went well until recently when some trouble is said to have arisen between Hickman and his wife No. 2, and then the bigamy charge was made. While in this city the man has followed the carpenter trade, but previous to that he practiced medicine in the state of Indiana. At one time he served on the police force at Sandusky, and at one time made application to get on the police force here. Just what will be the result of the charges against the man will be determined within a few days, and if the charges prove true, Hickman is in serious trouble.

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT JEFFERSONVILLE

Appropriate memorial services were observed at Jeffersonville Thursday, when E. L. Janes Post decorated the graves of deceased comrades in the old and new cemeteries of the town.

Services were conducted at Jefferson Hall in the afternoon. Rev. Chas. W. Blodgett, D. D., of the Christian Avenue church, Cincinnati, delivering one of the most eloquent addresses ever given in Jeffersonville. Rev. Blodgett spoke on "The Boys in Blue and the Monument They Deserve", and delivered the address in his usual brilliant manner.

After the services at Jefferson hall, where every seat was occupied, the Post marched to the cemetery, led by the newly organized band and escorted by the Junior Lodge of the town. The school children, bearing flags and flowers, formed part of the procession.

Short services were held at the old cemetery, the graves of the departed comrades in Fairview cemetery near the town being decorated in the forenoon.

The assistance of the Jeffersonville band was greatly appreciated by those in charge, as the organization was recently perfected, and it was the first time the band had appeared in new uniforms, and nearly a score in number.

Large Class Initiated In Rebekah Lodge

Thursday night was one long to be remembered in Rebekah lodge circles in this city, when the Hebron Degree Staff of Wilmington, said to be the finest Rebekah Degree Staff in the state of Ohio, conferred the work upon a class of thirty candidates and throughout the two hours and thirty minutes required to perform the work, not a single mistake was made by the splendid team, and the 200 Rebekahs who witnessed the work say it was the best of its kind they ever saw, and many have witnessed the conferring of degrees by the best teams in Ohio and other states.

The class of Thursday night brings

the membership of Imperial Rebekah lodge up to 150. Following the degree work, refreshments were served, after which dancing occupied the time until a late hour.

Those composing the staff remained in the city over night. Captain Holliday of Wilmington had charge of the splendidly drilled staff, and much credit is due to his untiring efforts for the standard of work produced.

A strong team is now under course of organization in the local lodge of Rebekahs, and the lodge hopes to eventually have a team that will rank well with any in the state.

Mrs. Lulu Robinson Honored by Banquet

The St. Clairsville Gazette gives an elaborate account of a farewell banquet to Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson:

"The banquet given to Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson by the teachers and pupils of the local High school last Friday evening was a delightful affair.

"Mrs. Robinson has been the efficient musical director, teacher of elocution and of physical culture in our schools for the past five years. She resigned at the end of this term in order that she might devote her entire time to the care of her invalid grand-son; and because of the esteem and love which teachers and scholars had for her and the regret they felt at her departure, this banquet was given.

"Excellent music was furnished by the St. Clairsville orchestra and an excellent menu was served, after which a program was carried out, Superintendent A. H. Rummel, acting as toast master. Mr. Rummel spoke from the standpoint of the superintendent of the schools. He considered her work as of inestimable value not only to the pupils, but to the teachers. He dwelt particularly on the help she had been to him, and the irreparable loss her departure was to the entire school. He presented to her a book of autographs, bound in the high school colors of red and gray which contained the personal sentiment of each pupil in the entire school from that of the baby in the first grade, to the graduate of 1912, as well as that of her pastor, Rev. R. S. Young, of the First Presbyterian church, and of each teacher, nine in number.

Toasts were made by ministers of the city, Attorney T. C. Ayers, president of the Board of Education, and prominent school men, paying high tribute to Mrs. Robinson's ability.

"Mrs. Robinson, in her easy and graceful manner, responded. Her self-possession, usually so remarkable almost failed her. She expressed herself as being overwhelmed, and thanked "everybody" for all the kindness shown to her and of all the praise which had been accorded her, assuring them that the pupils of the schools, and the people of the town had always been to her more than kind and thankful.

At the close of Mrs. Robinson's response all eyes were full of tears, but she herself broke up the gloom, and with her old cheery smile asked the orchestra to "play something cheerful."

In addition to many tokens of love and appreciation from the High school, Mrs. Robinson was the recipient, at their hands, of a very handsome silver mounted toilet set."

Clothes Might Not Make The Man, but Don't Look for a Job In Your Old Ones

And, friend, that's pretty good advice. And better advice is, don't simply wear new clothes. Wear clothes that take you out of the crowd of "ordinaries" into the group of "un-ordinaries."

There's one thing every man must hand our clothing. And that is, you can't get clothes styled like ours, no matter what price you pay.

$12 $15 $18 $20

is the range of our price tags, and men please don't judge these clothes by their tags.

Really, they're immense. We never saw or heard tell of such garments before, and you'll admit it, too.

Young Larrimer Attracts Attention

Walter Larrimer, of Bloomingburg, who has been performing so sensationally in the hurdle races in different track meets held over the state in the last two months, won second in the 120-yard low hurdles and fourth in the 220-yard high hurdles in the annual Bix Six field meet held upon Ohio Field at Columbus. Larrimer showed that he is one of the best hurdlers that has ever been developed in the Buckeye State.

The 1912 season is the first that Larrimer has appeared in public since he has been attending Ohio State University, and during that time he has contested with the best of the colleges of the central states, each time winning or forcing his opponent to go in record time to win, which makes his showing worth the consideration of the athletic critics. As Larrimer has one more year in college he should in that time develop better form, and with the proper preparation for the strenuous track season, will in all probability be the sensation of college athletic circles for the season of 1913.

Bound Over For Petit Larceny

Upon an affidavit filed by R. J. McLean, Frank Glasco, colored, was placed under arrest this week on a charge of petit larceny, growing out of the theft of a pair of buggy shafts and nuts from buggy spindles.

The theft occurred several weeks ago, and Chief McCoy was notified. After a great deal of investigation he located a pair of shafts at the Glasco residence, and although they had been painted black, the original color of yellow was not entirely hidden. Mr. McLean identified the shafts.

A search warrant was secured to locate the other articles which had been missed, but a search of the

Glasco residence failed to reveal the articles.

Within an hour after the search the nuts were found in the bed of a spring wagon in a shed from whence they had been taken.

Friday morning Glasco waived examination and was bound over to the Grand Jury under $100 bond, which he furnished.

Larrimer showed that he is one of the best hurdlers that has ever been developed in the Buckeye State.

The 1912 season is the first that Larrimer has appeared in public since he has been attending Ohio State University, and during that time he has contested with the best of the colleges of the central states, each time winning or forcing his opponent to go in record time to win, which makes his showing worth the consideration of the athletic critics. As Larrimer has one more year in college he should in that time develop better form, and with the proper preparation for the strenuous track season, will in all probability be the sensation of college athletic circles for the season of 1913.

The St. Clairsville Gazette gives an elaborate account of a farewell banquet to Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson:

"The banquet given to Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson by the teachers and pupils of the local High school last Friday evening was a delightful affair.

"Mrs. Robinson has been the efficient musical director, teacher of elocution and of physical culture in our schools for the past five years. She resigned at the end of this term in order that she might devote her entire time to the care of her invalid grand-son; and because of the esteem and love which teachers and scholars had for her and the regret they felt at her departure, this banquet was given.

"Excellent music was furnished by the St. Clairsville orchestra and an excellent menu was served, after which a program was carried out, Superintendent A. H. Rummel, acting as toast master. Mr. Rummel spoke from the standpoint of the superintendent of the schools. He considered her work as of inestimable value not only to the pupils, but to the teachers. He dwelt particularly on the help she had been to him, and the irreparable loss her departure was to the entire school. He presented to her a book of autographs, bound in the High school colors of red and gray which contained the personal sentiment of each pupil in the entire school from that of the baby in the first grade, to the graduate of 1912, as well as that of her pastor, Rev. R. S. Young, of the First Presbyterian church, and of each teacher, nine in number."

Toasts were made by ministers of the city, Attorney T. C. Ayers, president of the Board of Education, and prominent school men, paying high tribute to Mrs. Robinson's ability.

"Mrs. Robinson, in her easy and graceful manner, responded. Her self-possession, usually so remarkable almost failed her. She expressed herself as being overwhelmed, and thanked 'everybody' for all the kindness shown to her and of all the praise which had been accorded her, assuring them that the pupils of the schools, and the people of the town had always been to her more than kind and thankful.

At the close of Mrs. Robinson's response all eyes were full of tears, but she herself broke up the gloom, and with her old cheery smile asked the orchestra to 'play something cheerful.'

In addition to many tokens of love and appreciation from the High school, Mrs. Robinson was the recipient, at their hands, of a very handsome silver mounted toilet set."

Large Class Initiated In Rebekah Lodge

Thursday night was one long to be remembered in Rebekah lodge circles in this city, when the Hebron Degree Staff of Wilmington, said to be the finest Rebekah Degree Staff in the state of Ohio, conferred the work upon a class of thirty candidates and throughout the two hours and thirty minutes required to perform the work, not a single mistake was made by the splendid team, and the 200 Rebekahs who witnessed the work say it was the best of its kind they ever saw, and many have witnessed the conferring of degrees by the best teams in Ohio and other states.

The class of Thursday night brings

the membership of Imperial Rebekah lodge up to 150. Following the degree work, refreshments were served, after which dancing occupied the time until a late hour.

Those composing the staff remained in the city over night. Captain Holliday of Wilmington had charge of the splendidly drilled staff, and much credit is due to his untiring efforts for the standard of work produced.

Bound Over For Petit Larceny

Upon an affidavit filed by R. J. McLean, Frank Glasco, colored, was placed under arrest this week on a charge of petit larceny, growing out of the theft of a pair of buggy shafts and nuts from buggy spindles.

The theft occurred several weeks ago, and Chief McCoy was notified. After a great deal of investigation he located a pair of shafts at the Glasco residence, and although they had been painted black, the original color of yellow was not entirely hidden. Mr. McLean identified the shafts.

A search warrant was secured to locate the other articles which had been missed, but a search of the

Glasco residence failed to reveal the articles.

Within an hour after the search the nuts were found in the bed of a spring wagon in a shed from whence they had been taken.

Friday morning Glasco waived examination and was bound over to the Grand Jury under $100 bond, which he furnished.

FAMILY ROW CAUSES EXPOSE

Woman From Mansfield Poses as Wife Number One and Man is Dumbfounded When She Appears Here and Confronts Him.

Because he is alleged to be too much married, Dr. E. L. Hickman, aged about 50 years, was locked up in the county jail Thursday evening to face a bigamy charge, the claim being made that Hickman not only has a wife in this city, but also one in Mansfield, and both wives have apparently decided that they are not particular about longer holding the title.

It seems that some time ago a woman named Hickman, of Mansfield, Ohio, wrote to the police in this city, asking the whereabouts of Dr. E. L. Hickman, and when she learned that he was here, she came to this city and sent for Hickman, who visited her at one of the hotels, and was dumbfounded when he saw who it was.

At that time wife No. 1 did not care to prosecute, but after a lengthy chat with the man she claimed as her husband, she returned to Mansfield and Hickman returned to wife No. 2, who was married to Hickman in this city on November 20, 1911, under the name of Sarah Richason, and who was married upon three previous occasions, the first husband's name being Young, the second Gains and the third Richason, it is claimed.

All went well until recently when some trouble is said to have arisen between Hickman and his wife No. 2, and then the bigamy charge was made. While in this city the man has followed the carpenter trade, but previous to that he practiced medicine in the state of Indiana.

At one time he served on the police force at Sandusky, and at one time made application to get on the police force here.

Just what will be the result of the charges against the man will be determined within a few days, and if the charges prove true, Hickman is in serious trouble.

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT JEFFERSONVILLE

Appropriate memorial services were observed at Jeffersonville Thursday, when E. L. Janes Post decorated the graves of deceased comrades in the old and new cemeteries of the town.

Services were conducted at Jefferson Hall in the afternoon. Rev. Chas. W. Blodgett, D. D., of the Christian Avenue church, Cincinnati, delivering one of the most eloquent addresses ever given in Jeffersonville. Rev. Blodgett spoke on "The Boys in Blue and the Monument They Deserve", and delivered the address in his usual brilliant manner.

After the services at Jefferson hall, where every seat was occupied, the Post marched to the cemetery, led by the newly organized band and escorted by the Junior Lodge of the town. The school children, bearing flags and flowers, formed part of the procession.

Short services were held at the old cemetery, the graves of the departed comrades in Fairview cemetery near the town being decorated in the forenoon.

The assistance of the Jeffersonville band was greatly appreciated by those in charge, as the organization was recently perfected, and it was the first time the band had appeared in new uniforms, and nearly a score in number.

Memorial Day Exercises

Once more Decoration Day has received its tribute of sorrowful memories and patriotic fealty; once more flowers have been tenderly placed upon the graves marked by the flags, and once more a grateful people have realized sadly that the boys of '61 are marching rapidly to join the eternal army and that before the passing of many Memorial days the depleted ranks will cease to form the procession which has long been such a feature of the day.

Yesterday was distinctive as an ideal Memorial day. Not one drop of rain fell, an almost unprecedented act of consideration on the part of the weather clerk. Gray clouds hung lightly as a protecting curtain, making the work of decoration cool and pleasant, and towards evening the sun parted the clouds and shone gloriously upon our beautiful cemetery, with its waving flags and flowers of remembrance.

Our cemetery, always the city's pride, was at its brightest and best. The rain of Wednesday had made the grass vividly green and it seemed as if all the flowers had waited to blossom for Memorial Day. There was a perfect wealth of growing bloom, while but few graves failed to show the symbol of loving friends in cut flowers.

Of course the graves of the soldiers were the ones foremost in decoration,

but the custom of remembering loved ones on this day of patriotism has grown until Decoration Day has become general.

The lake, with its starry water lilies and overhanging vines was the center of as beautiful a resting place as heart could desire and the cemetery's beauty offered comfort and peace.

From early morning until dark there was a constant stream of autos and vehicles to the cemetery, and hundreds walked out, carrying flowers.

The Decoration Day services were marked with deep impressiveness.

All the comrades of the G. A. R. and its auxiliary organizations, with many citizens, assembled at Memorial hall at 1:30. Commander B. H. Millikan, of the R. B. Hayes Post, conducted the services and had in competent supervision the entire program of the afternoon.

Rev. W. I. Campbell offered the opening prayer and Mrs. J. T. Tuttle read Gen. John A. Logan's order No. 11.

Chaplain John Near read Lincoln's Gettysburg oration. Mrs. Mary Goldsberry Burgett, added greatly to the pleasure of the program by two beautiful contralto solos.

The afternoon's oration was delivered by Rev. R. C. Orndorff. It was a fervent eulogy to the boys who wore the blue and their never-to-be-forgotten valor, as well as a call to present day patriotism and was throughout an excellent oration.

Rev. T. W. Locke pronounced the benediction.

The procession formed for the cemetery under the command of Rankin Paul, grand marshal of the day, superbly mounted, as were the assistants of his choice.

The line of march was in order: Detachment of mounted police, Company M. O. N. G.; Spanish War veterans, wagon with flowers in charge of Comrade H. E. Lydy and Alonzo Thompson; John M. Bell Post, R. B. Hayes Post, Wm. Anderson Post, Sons of Veterans; all Auxiliary organizations; Mayor and city officials and citizens.

The road of the cemetery was lined on either side with flags and bunting and an immense flag hung across the entrance to the grounds.

The graves of dead comrades and also the Confederates were decorated by squads of Co. M. O. N. G., under the supervision of Capt. Horace Ireland.

There were beautiful services at the cemetery around the cenotaph. A memorial service by the Women's Relief Corps and the ritual service of the G. A. R., conducted by Commander D. R. Jacobs and officers of John M. Bell post. The entire assembly joined in the singing of America.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. Circle No. 26, decorated the graves of their deceased members with wreaths of white and green in the morning.

A feature greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the veterans of the G. A. R. and their auxiliaries, was the informal reception given by the Ladies' Circle of the G. A. R., at the G. A. R. hall upon the return from the cemetery. Company M. O. N. G., was also in attendance.

A refreshing lunch of delicious sandwiches, pickles and hot coffee, was bountifully served and the afternoon closed with stimulating social pleasure. The ladies of the Circle served between 300 and 400.

This has been their custom for several years.

Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 360 Willow St., Akron, had a very severe case of kidney trouble, suffered with a bad backache and dizzy headache with shooting pains and was quite miserable. She saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised, took them as directed and they cured her of all her ills. She says: "I can say now I am a well happy woman and I recommend Foley Kidney Pills because I would like to help others who suffer as I did." Blackmer & Tanquary.

Memorial Day Exercises

Once more Decoration Day has received its tribute of sorrowful memories and patriotic fealty; once more flowers have been tenderly placed upon the graves marked by the flags, and once more a grateful people have realized sadly that the boys of '61 are marching rapidly to join the eternal army and that before the passing of many Memorial days the depleted ranks will cease to form the procession which has long been such a feature of the day.

Yesterday was distinctive as an ideal Memorial day. Not one drop of rain fell, an almost unprecedented act of consideration on the part of the weather clerk. Gray clouds hung lightly as a protecting curtain, making the work of decoration cool and pleasant, and towards evening the sun parted the clouds and shone gloriously upon our beautiful cemetery, with its waving flags and flowers of remembrance.

Our cemetery, always the city's pride, was at its brightest and best. The rain of Wednesday had made the grass vividly green and it seemed as if all the flowers had waited to blossom for Memorial Day. There was a perfect wealth of growing bloom, while but few graves failed to show the symbol of loving friends in cut flowers.

Of course the graves of the soldiers were the ones foremost in decoration,

but the custom of remembering loved ones on this day of patriotism has grown until Decoration Day has become general.

The lake, with its starry water lilies and overhanging vines was the center of as beautiful a resting place as heart could desire and the cemetery's beauty offered comfort and peace.

From early morning until dark there was a constant stream of autos and vehicles to the cemetery, and hundreds walked out, carrying flowers.

The Decoration Day services were marked with deep impressiveness.

All the comrades of the G. A. R. and its auxiliary organizations, with many citizens, assembled at Memorial hall at 1:30. Commander B. H. Millikan, of the R. B. Hayes Post, conducted the services and had in competent supervision the entire program of the afternoon.

Rev. W. I. Campbell offered the opening prayer and Mrs. J. T. Tuttle read Gen. John A. Logan's order No. 11.

Chaplain John Near read Lincoln's Gettysburg oration. Mrs. Mary Goldsberry Burgett, added greatly to the pleasure of the program by two beautiful contralto solos.

The afternoon's oration was delivered by Rev. R. C. Orndorff. It was a fervent eulogy to the boys who wore the blue and their never-to-be-forgotten valor, as well as a call to present day patriotism and was throughout an excellent oration.

Rev. T. W. Locke pronounced the benediction.

The procession formed for the cemetery under the command of Rankin Paul, grand marshal of the day, superbly mounted, as were the assistants of his choice.

The line of march was in order: Detachment of mounted police, Company M. O. N. G.; Spanish War veterans, wagon with flowers in charge of Comrade H. E. Lydy and Alonzo Thompson; John M. Bell Post, R. B. Hayes Post, Wm. Anderson Post, Sons of Veterans; all Auxiliary organizations; Mayor and city officials and citizens.

The road of the cemetery was lined on either side with flags and bunting and an immense flag hung across the entrance to the grounds.

The graves of dead comrades and also the Confederates were decorated by squads of Co. M. O. N. G., under the supervision of Capt. Horace Ireland.

There were beautiful services at the cemetery around the cenotaph. A memorial service by the Women's Relief Corps and the ritual service of the G. A. R., conducted by Commander D. R. Jacobs and officers of John M. Bell post. The entire assembly joined in the singing of America.

A feature greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the veterans of the G. A. R. and their auxiliaries, was the informal reception given by the Ladies' Circle of the G. A. R., at the G. A. R. hall upon the return from the cemetery. Company M. O. N. G., was also in attendance.

A refreshing lunch of delicious sandwiches, pickles and hot coffee, was bountifully served and the afternoon closed with stimulating social pleasure. The ladies of the Circle served between 300 and 400.

This has been their custom for several years.

Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 360 Willow St., Akron, had a very severe case of kidney trouble, suffered with a bad backache and dizzy headache with shooting pains and was quite miserable. She saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised, took them as directed and they cured her of all her ills. She says: "I can say now I am a well happy woman and I recommend Foley Kidney Pills because I would like to help others who suffer as I did." Blackmer & Tanquary.

GOOD ROADS RIGHT.

Ten million dollars will be expended in the State of Washington in completing three trunk lines of a total length of 1000 miles under the direction of the Washington Good Roads Association if the recommendations of its executive committee are adopted by the legislature at its session next January.

Following favorable legislative action upon its program the association will support a bond issue for other road improvements. The work now proposed to be undertaken in 1913 is enormous.

Use will be made of existing roads in the building of the three main arteries and all roads will start from trade centers or at the termini of graded roads which begin at such centers. Camps are to be established and convict labor employed on all state road work.

The committee placed itself on record as opposed to a special session of the legislature, purposed to be called to consider a bond issue of $15,000,000 for state road building, the reason assigned being that highway construction is yet in an experimental stage and that no durable and economical material has been found.

As a substitute measure the committee will recommend that the yearly road levies be doubled. Thus the permanent highway fund will be increased from one to two mills a year and the public highway fund from a half mill to one mill yearly. In this way more than $3,000,000 will be raised. It was agreed that fully $25,000,000 would be required to carry out the work favored by the association, also that $15,000,000 could not be expended judiciously with the present state road organization.

Outlining its legislative program the committee recommended that 5 per cent. of each road fund be set aside for maintenance, the money to be expended the same as the general fund. It was also decided that the state highway fund, with the exception of 10 per cent., be used only on the trunk lines of the main road system, and that the appropriation by the legislature of the remaining 10 per cent., be expended on repairs of existing highways and in connecting disjointed roads with trade centers, not more than five miles distant.

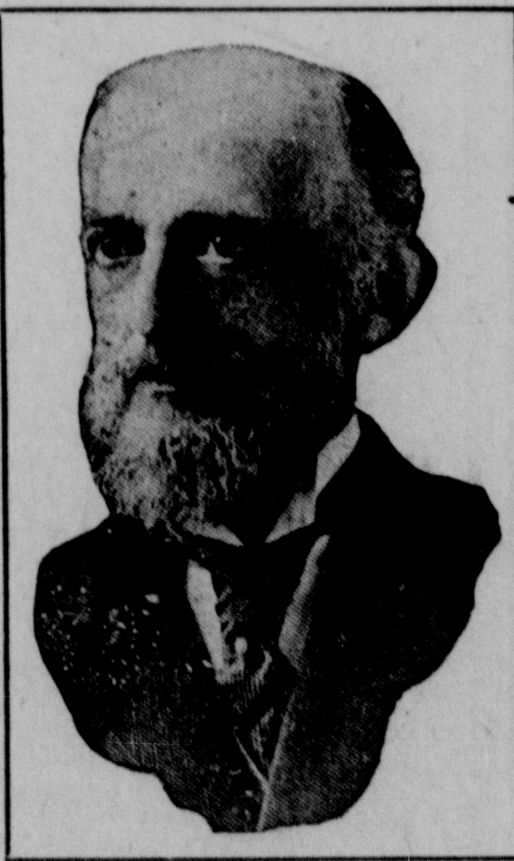

Some such plan equally effective will have to be adopted by Ohio in the near future to solve the problems of building or mending our roads.

N O nation has from its foundation on frequent occasions taken a more positive stand upon the principle of nonintervention than the United States.

YET NO NATION HAS STOOD MORE FIRMLY UPON THE RIGHT OF EXPATRIATION AND THE PROTECTION OF ITS CITIZENS, NATIVE BORN OR NATURALIZED, IN FOREIGN LANDS THAN OUR OWN.

Which protection has again and again been exercised on behalf of naturalized citizens, who on their return to the country of origin have been SUBJECTED TO PAINS AND PENALTIES imposed chiefly because they had emigrated and become naturalized in the country of their adoption without first obtaining the consent of their country of origin.

In 1859 Mr. Cass, the secretary of state, in his instruction to our minister to Prussia, said: "The moment a foreigner becomes naturalized his allegiance to his native country becomes severed forever. He experiences a new political birth. Should he return to his native country he returns as an American citizen and in no other character."

This American doctrine of expatriation, coupled with our LIBERAL LAWS OF NATURALIZATION, under which we freely received the emigrants from other countries, incorporated them into our body politic and endowed them with the rights of citizenship, naturally had the effect of more directly AROUSING OUR SYMPATHETIC INTEREST FOR THE OPPRESSED.

"CENTRAL" SPEAKS.

Call me not with scornful numbers,
Like "two-seven-O-ring-three!"
Snapped one in disdainful accents—
Pray, be courteous to me!
Would you like to sit here with a
Telephone strapped on your head,
All day long to answer summons?
Wouldn't you wish that you were dead?

When I say the line is busy,
Honestly, sometimes it is.
Why do you get so indignant
When you hear the buzzer's whiz?
And wrong numbers—naturally
Sometimes I am at a loss;
But, in fact, I give them mostly
To subscribers who are cross.

Be polite. It will not hurt you.
Even though I'm in a box,
I am human—although hidden—
And am sensitive to knocks.
Be polite. Do unto others
As you'd have them do to you,
It's a good rule to observe—and
You'll get better service, too.

Turkish Bath Substitute.

Fashionable women have tried an electrified blanket instead of the steaming Turkish bath. This is a series of electrified wires between nonconducting rubber sheets. The electricity which many nervous persons cannot take without becoming numb is not felt, being used merely for heating purposes. When the body is wrapped in an electrified blanket for half an hour profuse perspiration is general without there being any sensation of smothering or headache. The head is left free; only the body is blanketed. The perspiring period is followed by a needle or shower bath made gradually colder, and later by gentle massage and alcohol rub.

What Toads Are Worth

Science offers a new solution for the bug problem. It is to employ, in its professional capacity, so to speak, the toad—the ordinary hop toad of the field and garden—as an insect destroyer, declares a writer to the Technical World Magazine.

In this business the humble toad is unequaled by any other living animal. He is the greatest bug exterminator in the world. It is entirely practicable to utilize his services on an extensive scale, employing him systematically as an ally, to keep in check the insects which levy an annual tax of over eight hundred million dollars upon our agricultural resources.

There is no reason why the farmers of the country should not hatch and rear their own supply of toads, for local service. With a pond, or even a small pool insured against drying up during late spring, the creatures will breed of their own accord in any desired numbers up to the limit of the food supply available in the shape of insects. But one thing absolutely essential is that they shall be protected against their natural enemies, and by no means the least destructive of their enemies are small boys who, through mere thoughtlessness, kill toads whenever they get a chance.

It is estimated that an average toad is worth to the farmer five dollars a year for the cut-worms alone which it destroys. But this is only one item. The amount a toad will eat is astonishing. A large specimen has been known to devour one hundred

red rose-beetles at a single meal. One toad needed seventy-seven myriapods—the common household centipede—to satisfy his appetite; another fifty-five army worms; and yet another, sixty-five gypsy-moth caterpillars. Still another toad was seen to eat thirty-five large, full-grown celery worms in three hours, while another accepted eighty-six flies, fed to him in less than ten minutes.

It is a common thing, when the occupants of an ants' nest are swarming, and the insects are emerging in large numbers, to see an enterprising toad sit at the entrance of the burrow and snap up every ant that comes out. The slaughter he accomplishes under such circumstances is frightful. But, of course, most ants are not reckoned as insects injurious to man; and the toad unquestionably destroys some species which are beneficial to the farmer. Upon the whole, he is immensely useful, devouring countless numbers of the very worst bug foes of the crops.

Man Killed In Powder Explosion

With a roar which shook the countryside for miles, a ton of green powder in the Miami Powder Mills near Xenia let go Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 and William Kerns, a workman in the mill was hurled 300 feet to his death, while the building was torn to atoms.

It is claimed by some that the lightning struck the mill and caused the explosion. The dead man is survived by a wife and three small children.

Richest Indian Fights His Way to Wealth

The richest Indian in the world, and one of the richest landowners in Texas, coming from the recently developed Rio Grande Valley, is in Kansas City today. He is Lon Hill, of Harlingen, Texas, a town of 2,500 inhabitants 25 miles from Brownsville. Mr. Miller was in his father's store at Benton, Texas, away back there in the pioneer days when the cowboys drove the herds that way to the pastures in the Indian Territory. They became friends then.

Lon Hill in the last two months sold land for $2,000,000 and he still owns 90,000 acres in the Rio Grande valley that is estimated in value at $4,000,000.

It may appear a strange thing to say about an Indian, but it is true nevertheless, that he blazed the trail of civilization and development through the Rio Grande Valley that was infested with cattle thieves and bandits and Mexican desperados. Mr. Hill refuses to talk about those early days, and it is left to his friends and admirers to recite the story of the deeds that made for him a reputation as a fighter. Mr. Hill still has many enemies and he never is without two six-shooters strapped to his belt. His long black hair falls to his shoulders and his rugged features make him a picturesque character.

Some of Mr. Hill's friends recite some of the tales about when Hill, a graduate of the Texas University, gave up a law practice of $30,000 a year to go to the Rio Grande Valley to rid it of outlaws and establish a mammoth fortune for himself.

He once purchased 4,500 acres at $1 an acre and the wife of the man from whom he purchased it complained to her husband that the price was too cheap.

"I could afford to give it to him," the seller said. "Once Lon Hill gets into this country the thieves will leave our cattle alone."

One of the leaders of a gang of cattle thieves sent word to Hill that he would kill him and braid his long black hair for bridle reins. They met by chance on the road one day. One man road away. It was Lon Hill. Then the desperado's wife, herself a horsewoman and a deadly shot, took up the feud. She could ride at break-neck speed and empty two revolvers full of bullets in the bark of a sapling. They never met, however.

Hill's friends asked him what he would do if he were attacked and had to fight a woman.

"I would prove the gallantry of a gentleman," he said. "I would extend to her the courtesy of the first shot."

The Rio Grande Valley is developing rapidly now and only a few of the thieves and desperados exist in the outlying districts. They still hold a grudge against the man who led posses and made war on them, however.

The other day at his home one enemy fired on him from a house as he was passing in a motor car. The bullet splintered the steering wheel in the hands of a chauffeur. Hill reached into the leather pockets of the car and drew a rifle and a revolver. He emptied them into the side of the house as the chauffeur turned the car into full speed. Upon reaching home the chauffeur asked for his pay. He said he guessed he would go back to New York.—Kansas City Star.

Big Peach Crop In Ross County

Considering the great scarcity of fruit in Fayette county and many parts of the state and country, it may be interesting to know that in southern Ross county and other parts of the ever famous fruit-producing "hills" the peach crop will be enormous if nothing injures the fruit from now until it ripens.

Every tree in some parts of the "hills" is loaded with the fruit. The remarkable part is that while the peach trees are laden with fruit, the apple crop will be very small.

Says Carp Will Be in Demand

"A hundred tons of carp were brought into the Sandusky market alone last week," said State Fish and Game Warden, John C. Spear, "practically all of it for shipment to Eastern markets. The carp do not come into demand here yet, but no doubt he will soon. It is on prejudice that stands against him. He is tenacious of life and comes into the market usually in prime condition. Forty years ago the was the same prejudice against sturgeon and fishermen looked upon that fish as the pest of the nests. Now the sturgeon is the highest-priced fish that we have and so great is the demand for sturgeon that the lake is fished hard for him and we will have to establish a year period against sturgeon fishing in order to re-stock the lake."

The sheephead that was formerly thrown away is also now marketable here. The high prices of meats constitute a factor in bringing attention to fish as articles of food now.

YET NO NATION HAS STOOD MORE FIRMLY UPON THE RIGHT OF EXPATRIATION AND THE PROTECTION OF ITS CITIZENS, NATIVE BORN OR NATURALIZED, IN FOREIGN LANDS THAN OUR OWN.

Which protection has again and again been exercised on behalf of naturalized citizens, who on their return to the country of origin have been SUBJECTED TO PAINS AND PENALTIES imposed chiefly because they had emigrated and become naturalized in the country of their adoption without first obtaining the consent of their country of origin.

In 1859 Mr. Cass, the secretary of state, in his instruction to our minister to Prussia, said: "The moment a foreigner becomes naturalized his allegiance to his native country becomes severed forever. He experiences a new political birth. Should he return to his native country he returns as an American citizen and in no other character."

This American doctrine of expatriation, coupled with our LIBERAL LAWS OF NATURALIZATION, under which we freely received the emigrants from other countries, incorporated them into our body politic and endowed them with the rights of citizenship, naturally had the effect of more directly AROUSING OUR SYMPATHETIC INTEREST FOR THE OPPRESSED.

Poetry—Today

"CENTRAL" SPEAKS.

Call me not with scornful numbers,
Like "two-seven-O-ring-three!"
Snapped one in disdainful accents—
Pray, be courteous to me!
Would you like to sit here with a
Telephone strapped on your head,
All day long to answer summons?
Wouldn't you wish that you were
dead?

When I say the line is busy,
Honestly, sometimes it is.
Why do you get so indignant
When you hear the buzzer's whiz?
And wrong numbers—naturally
Sometimes I am at a loss;
But, in fact, I give them mostly
To subscribers who are cross.

Be polite. It will not hurt you.
Even though I'm in a box,
I am human—although hidden—
And am sensitive to knocks.
Be polite. Do unto others
As you'd have them do to you,
It's a good rule to observe—and
You'll get better service, too.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Turkish Bath Substitute.

Fashionable women have tried an electrified blanket instead of the steaming Turkish bath. This is a series of electrified wires between nonconducting rubber sheets. The electricity which many nervous persons cannot take without becoming numb is not felt, being used merely for heating purposes. When the body is wrapped in an electrified blanket for half an hour profuse perspiration is general without there being any sensation of smothering or headache. The head is left free; only the body is blanketed. The perspiring period is followed by a needle or shower bath made gradually colder, and later by gentle massage and alcohol rub.

ZEMO FOR YOUR SKIN.

Eczema, Pimples, Rash and All Skin Afflictions Quickly Healed.

No matter what the trouble, eczema, chafing, pimples, salt rheum, Zemo instantly stops irritation. The cure comes quick. Sinks right in, leaving no trace. Zemo is a vanishing liquid. Your skin fairly revels with delight the moment Zemo is applied. Greatest thing on earth for dandruff.

Zemo is prepared by E. W. Rose Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo., and is sold by all druggists at $1 a bottle. But to prove to you its wonderful value it is now put up in liberal size trial bottles at only 25 cents and is guaranteed to do the work or your money back. Sold at Brown's Drug Store.

What Toads Are Worth

Science offers a new solution for the bug problem. It is to employ, in its professional capacity, so to speak, the toad—the ordinary hop toad of the field and garden—as an insect destroyer, declares a writer to the Technical World Magazine.

In this business the humble toad is unequaled by any other living animal. He is the greatest bug exterminator in the world. It is entirely practicable to utilize his services on an extensive scale, employing him systematically as an ally, to keep in check the insects which levy an annual tax of over eight hundred million dollars upon our agricultural resources.

There is no reason why the farmers of the country should not hatch and rear their own supply of toads, for local service. With a pond, or even a small pool insured against drying up during late spring, the creatures will breed of their own accord in any desired numbers up to the limit of the food supply available in the shape of insects. But one thing absolutely essential is that they shall be protected against their natural enemies, and by no means the least destructive of their enemies are small boys who, through mere thoughtlessness, kill toads whenever they get a chance.

It is estimated that an average toad is worth to the farmer five dollars a year for the cut-worms alone which it destroys. But this is only one item. The amount a toad will eat is astonishing. A large specimen has been known to devour one hundred

red rose-beetles at a single meal. One toad needed seventy-seven myriapods—the common household centipede—to satisfy his appetite; another fifty-five army worms; and yet another, sixty-five gypsy-moth caterpillars. Still another toad was seen to eat thirty-five large, full-grown celery worms in three hours, while another accepted eighty-six flies, fed to him in less than ten minutes.

It is a common thing, when the occupants of an ants' nest are swarming, and the insects are emerging in large numbers, to see an enterprising toad sit at the entrance of the burrow and snap up every ant that comes out. The slaughter he accomplishes under such circumstances is frightful. But, of course, most ants are not reckoned as insects injurious to man; and the toad unquestionably destroys some species which are beneficial to the farmer. Upon the whole, he is immensely useful, devouring countless numbers of the very worst bug foes of the crops.

Man Killed In Powder Explosion

With a roar which shook the countryside for miles, a ton of green powder in the Miami Powder Mills near Xenia let go Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 and William Kerns, a workman in the mill was hurled 300 feet to his death, while the building was torn to atoms.

It is claimed by some that the lightning struck the mill and caused the explosion. The dead man is survived by a wife and three small children.

Richest Indian Fights His Way to Wealth

The richest Indian in the world, and one of the richest landowners in Texas, coming from the recently developed Rio Grande Valley, is in Kansas City today. He is Lon Hill, of Harlingen, Texas, a town of 2,500 inhabitants 25 miles from Brownsville. Mr. Miller was in his father's store at Benton, Texas, away back there in the pioneer days when the cowboys drove the herds that way to the pastures in the Indian Territory. They became friends then.

Lon Hill in the last two months sold land for $2,000,000 and he still owns 90,000 acres in the Rio Grande valley that is estimated in value at $4,000,000.

It may appear a strange thing to say about an Indian, but it is true nevertheless, that he blazed the trail of civilization and development through the Rio Grande Valley that was infested with cattle thieves and bandits and Mexican desperados. Mr. Hill refuses to talk about those early days, and it is left to his friends and admirers to recite the story of the deeds that made for him a reputation as a fighter. Mr. Hill still has many enemies and he never is without two six-shooters strapped to his belt. His long black hair falls to his shoulders and his rugged features make him a picturesque character.

Some of Mr. Hill's friends recite some of the tales about when Hill, a graduate of the Texas University, gave up a law practice of $30,000 a year to go to the Rio Grande Valley to rid it of outlaws and establish a mammoth fortune for himself.

He once purchased 4,500 acres at $1 an acre and the wife of the man from whom he purchased it complained to her husband that the price was too cheap.

"I could afford to give it to him," the seller said. "Once Lon Hill gets into this country the thieves will leave our cattle alone."

One of the leaders of a gang of cattle thieves sent word to Hill that he would kill him and braid his long black hair for bride reins. They met by chance on the road one day. One man road away. It was Lon Hill. Then the desperado's wife, herself a horsewoman and a deadly shot, took up the feud. She could ride at break-neck speed and empty two revolvers full of bullets in the bark of a sapling. They never met, however.

Hill's friends asked him what he would do if he were attacked and had to fight a woman.

"I would prove the gallantry of a gentleman," he said. "I would extend to her the courtesy of the first shot."

The Rio Grande Valley is developing rapidly now and only a few of the thieves and desperados exist in the outlying districts. They still hold a grudge against the man who led posses and made war on them, however.

Big Peach Crop In Ross County

Considering the great scarcity of fruit in Fayette county and in some parts of the state and country, it may be interesting to know that in southern Ross county and other parts of the ever famous fruit-producing "hills" the peach crop will be enormous if nothing injures the fruit from now until it ripens.

Every tree in some parts of the "hills" is loaded with the fruit. The remarkable part is that while the peach trees are laden with fruit, the apple crop will be very small.

Says Carp Will Be in Demand

"A hundred tons of carp were brought into the Sandusky market alone last week," said State Fish and Game Warden, John C. Spear, "practically all of it for shipment to Eastern markets. The carp do not come into demand here yet, but no doubt he will soon. It is a prejudice that stands against him. He is tenacious of life and comes into the market usually in poor condition. Forty years ago that was the same prejudice against sturgeon and fishermen looked upon that fish as the pest of the nests. Now the sturgeon is the highest-priced fish that we have and so great is the demand for sturgeon that the lake is fished hard for him and we will have to establish a year period against sturgeon fishing in order to re-stock the lake."

The sheephead that was formerly thrown away is also now marketed here. The high prices of meats constitute a factor in bringing attention to fish as articles of food now.

THE ATHLETICS WIN FROM GROVE CITY

Local Team Continues to Win Over All Comers.

SUNDAY THE DAYTON LOCALS

Some New Faces Appeared at the Park Yesterday and New Rooters Made Merry Over Grove City's Defeat.

Something like one thousand fans journeyed to the Athletic park yesterday afternoon to see the local team cross bats with the Grove City team. Washington owes the hard-won victory chiefly to the wildness of Pitcher McKee, the side-wheel hurler of the visitors, who was good when he could get 'em grooved. He had the local bunch eating out of his hand except when he bent them a little too far over.

In the sixth inning McKee forced in a run by giving a base on balls after two men were out.

to water, and before the spectators could take a long breath, two large juicy tallies had trickled merrily over the plate.

Runnells was then derrickd and Chaffin brought in from right-field. In the second inning the visitors again accumulated two before Chaffin got his bearings. After that it was easy and the honored guests only connected for four safeties during the remaining eight innings of play.

Twelve players on each side cut three consecutive swaths in the damp, heavy atmosphere, and sat down on the bench without connecting with the flying pellet.

Adams caught a good game considering the fact that his leg is badly injured.

Many new faces not seen at Sunday games were there wreathed in smiles and the sounds which emanated from the aforesaid faces testified abundantly to the fact that they belonged to fans of the 33rd degree.

Sunday afternoon the famous Dayton locals who proved victors in last Sunday's Millwood park game came to the Athletic park for a game.

VALUABLE MEMBER OF CINCINNATI TEAM

Marsans, the "Ty Cobb" of Cuba.

When those Cubans—Almeida and Marsans—came into the National League a lot of people were inclined to look on the deal that brought them as a sort of hippodrome stunt by Frank Bancroft to add interest to the Reds and bolster up battered gate receipts. Time has proven otherwise, for both won places on real merit as ball players. True, Almeida has been shunted to the minors, but it was because of indifferent disposition and not for lack of ability. He hit over 300 in the few games Clark Griffith permitted him to play last year and proved a valuable utility man. Marsans did not hit so hard. Perhaps he was not as good a ball player as Almeida, but he showed more earnestness in his work and that counts. Today there is no

Shifting Of The Glaciers

"A suggested clause of the glacial periods," says the Chicago Tribune, "is that they have been due to the shifting of the milky way." Where in the world did the Tribune get hold of that idea? The glaciers are just as explainable as summer and winter. In fact, they are the incidents of the winter of the "grand cycle" of 25,000 years through which the earth passes.

We will have them again some of these days, nine or ten thousand years hence, if we are here that long, when the north star will be down in the region where Vega now is, and Ohio be up where Labrador is, and our rose bushes will fail, and the bloom of the cherry tree will be no more and the bluebird's song will have long ago died out of memory. All this will come about and the milky way will shine on in its mild splendor, wholly forgetful of our earth speck and its cruel, crawling glaciers. What a time it will be when the great ice sheet creeps over us again, reducing our glory, our pride, our patriotism, our social functions into a scratch on the hilltop and a sprinkling of boulders down the valley.—Ohio State Journal.

Waste Of Lead Pencils

The management of a large railroad, in its New Year reformations for cutting down expenses has adopted an odd feature. It has ordered removed from its several hundred or thousand offices the mechanical pencil sharpeners used by its clerks to keep their pencils in needle-point condition.

These machines which were a temptation to clerks and stenographers every time they passed them, to put a new point on their pencils, used up 325,000 extra inches of pencils each year unnecessarily. This huge waste of over five miles of lead pencils, has thus been stopped, which according to the road's estimate, will result in a saving of about $2,000 a year.—Popular Mechanics.

Bloomington Will Have Band Concerts

Bloomington citizens will enjoy band concerts on Friday night of each week during the summer, plans having just been completed for the events.

H. E. Roseboom has erected a band stand on the Knights of Pythias lot in the center of the town, and the band, twenty pieces strong and under the management of Claude Andrews will furnish open air concerts, a thing which has always been popular in Bloomington.

New Holland has also made arrangements for band concerts, but in this city it has not been determined whether open air concerts will be given. However, efforts are being made to secure money to pay expenses of weekly concerts, as merchants along the "White Way" are desirous of obtaining the free concerts.

VALUABLE MEMBER OF CINCINNATI TEAM

Marsans, the "Ty Cobb" of Cuba.

When those Cubans—Almeida and Marsans—came into the National league a lot of people were inclined to look on the deal that brought them as a sort of hippodrome stunt by Frank Bancroft to add interest to the Reds and bolster up battered gate receipts. Time has proven otherwise, for both won places on real merit as ball players. True, Almeida has been shunted to the minors, but it was because of indifferent disposition and not for lack of ability. He hit over .300 in the few games Clark Griffith permitted him to play last year and proved a valuable utility man. Marsans did not hit so hard. Perhaps he was not as good a ball player as Almeida, but he showed more earnestness in his work and that counts. Today there is no more valued member of the Red team. His full opportunity has not come yet, because there is small chance to break in when a combination is winning, but many a good man sits on the bench. Marsans is one of the fastest men in baseball. In his own land he was called the Ty Cobb of Cuba. When a runner is needed in a Red game Marsans gets the assignment. Marsans came to the States about six years ago and played on semi-pro teams in the east. He finally landed in organized ball and the Reds got him from New Britain of the Connecticut league. He is twenty-six years old, slight of build, but active as a cat and like most of the Cubans has a wonderful throwing arm. Most catchers watch him closely.

Bloomington Will Have Band Concerts

Bloomington citizens will enjoy band concerts on Friday night of each week during the summer, plans having just been completed for the events.

H. E. Roseboom has erected a band stand on the Knights of Pythias lot in the center of the town, and the band, twenty pieces strong and under the management of Claude Andrews will furnish open air concerts, a thing which has always been popular in Bloomington.

New Holland has also made arrangements for band concerts, but in this city it has not been determined whether open air concerts will be given. However, efforts are being made to secure money to pay expenses of weekly concerts, as merchants along the "White Way" are desirous of obtaining the free concerts.

Shifting Of The Glaciers

"A suggested clause of the glacial periods," says the Chicago Tribune, "is that they have been due to the shifting of the milky way." Where in the world did the Tribune get hold of that idea? The glaciers are just as explainable as summer and winter. In fact, they are the incidents of the winter of the "grand cycle" of 25,000 years through which the earth passes.

We will have them again some of these days, nine or ten thousand years hence, if we are here that long, when the north star will be down in the region where Vega now is, and Ohio be up where Labrador is, and our rose bushes will fail, and the bloom of the cherry tree will be no more and the bluebird's song will have long ago died out of memory. All this will come about and the milky way will shine on in its mild splendor, wholly forgetful of our earth speck and its cruel, crawling glaciers. What a time it will be when the great ice sheet creeps over us again, reducing our glory, our pride, our patriotism, our social functions into a scratch on the hilltop and a sprinkling of bowlders down the valley.—Ohio State Journal.

Waste Of Lead Pencils

The management of a large railroad, in its New Year reformations for cutting down expenses has adopted an odd feature. It has ordered removed from its several hundred or thousand offices the mechanical pencil sharpeners used by its clerks to keep their pencils in needle-point condition.

These machines which were a temptation to clerks and stenographers every time they passed them, to put a new point on their pencils, used up 325,000 extra inches of pencils each year unnecessarily. This huge waste of over five miles of lead pencils, has thus been stopped, which according to the road's estimate, will result in a saving of about $2,000 a year.—Popular Mechanics.

SUNDAY THE DAYTON LOCALS

Some New Faces Appeared at the Park Yesterday and New Rooters Made Merry Over Grove City's Defeat.

Something like one thousand fans journeyed to the Athletic park yesterday afternoon to see the local team cross bats with the Grove City team. Washington owes the hard-won victory chiefly to the wildness of Pitcher McKee, the side-wheel hurler of the visitors, who was good when he could get 'em grooved. He had the local bunch eating out of his hand except when he bent them a little too far over.

In the sixth inning McKee forced in a run by giving a base on balls after two men were out.

Ohio Must Import Wheat

The state of Ohio will, according to present crop conditions, as reported by grain dealers in every part of the state, be approximately 20,000,000 bushels short in meeting its own wheat requirements this year. Last year the yield of the state amounted to approximately 36,000,000 bushels. This year the wheat yield will be about 8,000,000 bushels. The wheat demands for bread require about 25,000,000 bushels a year and the seed requirements approximately 3,000,000 bushels. This shortage will have to be made up by purchases outside the state and many of the larger flouring mills are already contracting for supplies.

WITH THINNED RANKS AND FALTERING STEPS

Bloomington Veterans Wend Way to Last Resting Place of Their Comrades and Pay Tribute to Their Memory.

The memorial services conducted by Miriam Judy Post at Bloomington Thursday, were unusually touching, as the ranks of the veterans who fought so valiantly for the flag when the country was in direst need of their help, had thinned very noticeably, and many of the footsteps faltered with the weakness of years.

The address and special church services were held in the M. E. church and the building was, as usual on such occasions, packed to the point of suffocation and many were unable to gain admission. Mr. Henry Brownell, of this city, delivered the address, and it was of a nature that appealed to the veterans and all who heard it. Mr. Brownell paid glowing tribute to the nation's warriors, and the attention of the large audience was not lost for an instant throughout the address. Special music was rendered for services.

Following the services at the church the veterans, headed by the

Bloomington band and escorted by the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias and the other members of the order marched to the cemetery where five of their comrades had found a resting place since last year, and a committee of the Uniformed Knights decorated the many graves, after which short services were held, the customary salute of three rounds fired, taps sounded and the return to the G. A. R. headquarters made.

Bloomington cemetery, always beautiful, was literally filled with flowers. Persons who have friends interred in the cemetery had visited the graves earlier in the day and flowers in great profusion were strewn over the little green mounds.

Will Give Usual Annual Outing

The Dahl-Millikan branch of the Midland Wholesale Grocery Company has announced that despite its heavy loss December 30, 1911, when its offices and salesrooms at Washington C. H. were destroyed by fire, it will continue its policy of giving its customers a week's outing annually.

This will be the sixteenth annual outing of the company and will be held at Cedar Point on Lake Erie. The Dahl-Millikan branch inaugurated the policy of entertaining its customers with an annual trip or outing before it joined with the Monypeny-Hammond Company in the formation of the Midland Grocery Company. Customers are prorated tickets, which cover every expense of the outings, on a basis of their business. The outings have grown on this basis from a representation of gross annual business amounting to about $1,500,000 to a present annual gross approximating nearly $3,000,000.

The special excursion trains of the company this year will be run in three sections by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. One train will start from Jackson, July 1, another will be started from Wilmington July 8, and the third will start from Blanchester July 22. Each of these three trains will be run through Washington C. H., where the customers of the branch will be shown the company's new buildings. Reservations will be arranged in advance for the three parties at Cedar Point. The company has planned a liberal entertainment program, including a number of side trips from the Lake Erie resort.

Washington, May 30.—Meager reports from Cuba received at the state department indicated that the Gomez government, despite its large force in the field, is doing little to put down the negro uprising. PHYSICIANS DELIGHTED BY WHAT NEW TONIC, TONA VITA, HAS DONE.

Tired out, run-down half sick people are not so numerous as they were a year ago. "Tona Vita" the great modern tonic has proved as successful in the United States as in Europe, and many thousands of Americans have been built up and restored to health by this medicine.

The physicians who introduced "Tona Vita" in this country are enthusiastic over the remarkable success of the medicine, and those who have been restored to health are also glad to tell what their experience has been. Mrs. Smith, of Rochester, N. Y., a trained nurse for sixteen years and a graduate of Bellevue hospital, New York City, says: "I have had no opportunity to take sufficient rest and during the past year this has told on me. My nerves began to trouble me. I have not been sleeping well and my appetite and digestion were not as they should be. I tired easily and did not have the vitality to withstand a hard day's work as formerly. This tonic 'Tona Vita' was recommended to me and I decided to give it a test. I have been greatly benefited in health and strength by this medicine. I sincerely believe the tonic to be highly meritorious judging from my own experience."

Do you lack strength and vitality? Do you take cold easily and sleep poorly? Are you nervous and depressed? If so you are a sufferer from nervous debility and you should at once get a bottle of Tona Vita and see how quickly it will build you up.

Brown's Drug Store, corner Court and Fayette Sts., is the agent for Tona Vita in Washington C. H. Your money will be returned to you if you are dissatisfied with the tonic. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, Ohio.

Canadian Leader Firm For Reciprocity

Laurier, However, Raps Taft For Stealing Canadian Rhetoric.

Ottawa, Ont., May 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, at a great gathering of national Liberal leaders at a banquet given by the Reform club of Montreal, reiterated his belief in reciprocity and spoke bitterly of President Taft. It was his first public utterance in reply to Taft's allegation that reciprocity would have made Canada an adjunct of the United States.

"Mr. Taft in that letter only repeated what had been said by the Canadian jingoes," he said. "For my part I wish to say I am surprised that a man of the eminence of Mr. Taft should borrow such shallow rhetoric from the Canadian jingoes."

"I have this to say to Mr. Taft, that he little knew the character of this people. If he harbors in his mind or heart the thought that any such arrangement could make Canada an adjunct, I have to tell him that Canada will never be an adjunct, and I say to Mr. Taft that the consent of the Canadian people to become an adjunct can not be obtained by all the profits and wealth of the United States."

Ohio Must Import Wheat

The state of Ohio will, according to present crop conditions, as reported by grain dealers in every part of the state, be approximately 20,000,000 bushels short in meeting its own wheat requirements this year. Last year the yield of the state amounted to approximately 36,000,000 bushels. This year the wheat yield will be about 8,000,000 bushels. The wheat demands for bread require about 25,000,000 bushels a year and the seed requirements approximately 3,000,000 bushels. This shortage will have to be made up by purchases outside the state and many of the larger flouring mills are already contracting for supplies.

Bloomington Veterans Wend Way to Last Resting Place of Their Comrades and Pay Tribute to Their Memory.

The memorial services conducted by Miriam Judy Post at Bloomington Thursday, were unusually touching, as the ranks of the veterans who fought so valiantly for the flag when the country was in direst need of their help, had thinned very noticeably, and many of the footsteps faltered with the weakness of years.

The address and special church services were held in the M. E. church and the building was, as usual on such occasions, packed to the point of suffocation and many were unable to gain admission. Mr. Henry Brownell, of this city, delivered the address, and it was of a nature that appealed to the veterans and all who heard it. Mr. Brownell paid glowing tribute to the nation's warriors, and the attention of the large audience was not lost for an instant throughout the address. Special music was rendered for services.

Bloomington band and escorted by the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias and the other members of the order marched to the cemetery where five of their comrades had found a resting place since last year, and a committee of the Uniformed Knights decorated the many graves, after which short services were held, the customary salute of three rounds fired, taps sounded and the return to the G. A. R. headquarters made.

Bloomington cemetery, always beautiful, was literally filled with flowers. Persons who have friends interred in the cemetery had visited the graves earlier in the day and flowers in great profusion were strewn over the little green mounds.

Will Give Usual Annual Outing

The Dahl-Milikan branch of the Midland Wholesale Grocery Company has announced that despite its heavy loss December 30, 1911, when its offices and salesrooms at Washington C. H. were destroyed by fire, it will continue its policy of giving its customers a week's outing annually.

This will be the sixteenth annual outing of the company and will be held at Cedar Point on Lake Erie. The Dahl-Milikan branch inaugurated the policy of entertaining its customers with an annual trip or outing before it joined with the Monypenny-Hammond Company in the formation of the Midland Grocery Company. Customers are prorated tickets, which cover every expense of the outings, on a basis of their business. The outings have grown on this basis from a representation of gross annual business amounting to about $1,500,000 to a present annual gross approximating nearly $3,000,000.

The special excursion trains of the company this year will be run in three sections by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. One train will start from Jackson, July 1, another will be started from Wilmington July 8, and the third will start from Blanchester July 22. Each of these three trains will be run through Washington C. H., where the customers of the branch will be shown the company's new buildings. Reservations will be arranged in advance for the three parties at Cedar Point. The company has planned a liberal entertainment program, including a number of side trips from the Lake Erie resort. —Ohio State Journal.

Cuban Revolt Is Quiet.
Washington, May 30.—Meager reports from Cuba received at the state department indicated that the Gomez government, despite its large force in the field, is doing little to put down the negro uprising. The federal forces, it is said, are making no effort to seek out the rebels and capture or disperse them. The soldiers are devoting themselves solely to guarding foreign property.

Same Success Here As In Europe

PHYSICIANS DELIGHTED BY WHAT NEW TONIC, TONA VITA, HAS DONE.

Tired out, run-down half sick people are not so numerous as they were a year ago. "Tona Vita" the great modern tonic has proved as successful in the United States as in Europe, and many thousands of Americans have been built up and restored to health by this medicine.

The physicians who introduced "Tona Vita" in this country are enthusiastic over the remarkable success of the medicine, and those who have been restored to health are also glad to tell what their experience has been. Mrs. Smith, of Rochester, N. Y., a trained nurse for sixteen years and a graduate of Bellevue hospital, New York City, says:

"I have had no opportunity to take sufficient rest and during the past year this has told on me. My nerves began to trouble me. I have not been sleeping well and my appetite and digestion were not as they should be. I tired easily and did not have the vitality to withstand a hard day's work as formerly. This tonic 'Tona Vita' was recommended to me and I decided to give it a test. I have been greatly benefited in health and strength by this medicine. I sincerely believe the tonic to be highly meritorious judging from my own experience."

Do you lack strength and vitality? Do you take cold easily and sleep poorly? Are you nervous and depressed? If so you are a sufferer from nervous debility and you should at once get a bottle of Tona Vita and see how quickly it will build you up.

Brown's Drug Store, corner Court and Fayette Sts., is the agent for Tona Vita in Washington C. H. Your money will be returned to you if you are dissatisfied with the tonic. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, Ohio.

Canadian Leader Firm For Reciprocity

Laurier, However, Raps Taft For Stealing Canadian Rhetoric.
Ottawa, Ont., May 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at a great gathering of national Liberal leaders at a banquet given by the Reform club of Montreal, reiterated his belief in reciprocity and spoke bitterly of President Taft. It was his first public utterance in reply to Taft's allegation that reciprocity would have made Canada an adjunct of the United States.

"Mr. Taft in that letter only repeated what had been said by the Canadian jingoes," he said. "For my part I wish to say I am surprised that a man of the eminence of Mr. Taft should borrow such shallow rhetoric from the Canadian jingoes."

"I have this to say to Mr. Taft, that he little knew the character of this people. If he harbors in his mind or heart the thought that any such arrangement could make Canada an adjunct, I have to tell him that Canada will never be an adjunct, and I say to Mr. Taft that the consent of the Canadian people to become an adjunct can not be obtained by all the profits and wealth of the United States."

Harmon Loses In Highland Convention

Loses Out In One County Convention.

Columbus, O., May 30. — Harmon won three counties and lost one in the county conventions held to select delegates to the state convention at Toledo next week.

Only one county, Perry, had a Republican convention. The delegates are uninstructed and probably are for Colonel Roosevelt.

The governor's friends were in control in Clinton, Brown and Paulding counties, and it is said all the 17 delegates selected will favor the modified unit rule. Governor Harmon was beaten in Highland county, which chose a hostile delegation of seven headed by L. L. Faris of Hillsboro, who was defeated as a Wilson delegate in the Sixth district. High men are behind General O. Hughes for governor.

"Invincibles" Prove Claim

In a game which was an easy walk-over, the Jeffersonville "Invincibles" defeated a ball team from Port William Thursday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd of spectators.

The game was played on the Jeffersonville diamond, and the Invincibles played hide and seek with the Port William aggregation, and when the game ended the score stood 11 to 2 in favor of Manager Bush's fast Invincibles.

The Port William team could hardly entertain the Jeffersonville team, and were hooted by the crowd. Heironimus pitched for Jeffersonville.

HAIRY MAN FIRST SETTLER

Garden of Eden Located Near South Pole by Noted English Scientist.

London.—After a study of the different parts of the skeletons, Professor Keith announces that the prehistoric men whose remains have been discovered recently in Kent resembled the native Australians, writes a London correspondent. This is true, he says, of paleolithic man in Europe. He adds that in Tasmania and Australia fifty years ago there existed, side by side, comparatively early stages of the division of the primitive human race into negroes and non-negroes.

As to the color of the original man, he was, strictly speaking, neither white nor black, but he was more hairy than any human race now living. Nor is it unlikely that men in the most ancient times dwelt in the south polar regions. Professor Keith regards some of the original Tasmanians as the earliest historical types of the negro. This type has been extinct only half a century. Still, this Tasmanian was, according to Professor Keith, a very highly evolved man, from a zoological point of view. He regards it as a striking fact that in every large area where primitive races are found in the southern half of the old world, neighboring representatives of the Tasmanian and Australian stocks are also to be found.

This would indicate that the so-called "seat of the human race"—the Garden of Eden, as many would say—was not in Asia at all, and not even in the Mediterranean basin, as was held by the late Professor Daniel G. Brinton, the American ethnologist, but may have been away off down toward the south pole.

The latest researches make it convincingly clear, asserts Professor Keith, that the outline of the brain chamber of the negro skull is totally different from that of apes and of the neanderthal, or extremely ancient European men. The broad and short faces and prominent cheek bones of the negro, he says, depend on the robust development of the teeth and muscles of mastication. The prominent jaws are due partly but not entirely to the size of the teeth. The protuberant jaws give not only large mouth and palate, but ample passage for air through nose and throat. The small jaws of Europeans, according to the professor, are due to an arrest of normal growth providing a place for the permanent teeth.

CITY STILL BARS CHINESE

Celestial Who Invaded Wallace, Idaho, Had to Sleep in the Jail.

Butte, Mont.—A Chinaman in Butte has first-hand knowledge that the ban put on his race in the Coeur d'Alene mining district in 1894 is still in effect. He spent one night in Wallace, the center of the district, and then returned to Butte.

The Chinamen were driven out of the district in 1894, when the mine owners attempted to use them to supplant white men. It was then decided by the union miners, a set of men who had used desperate methods in strikes, that no Chinaman should ever be permitted to live there.

Since that time Wallace has grown from a mining camp into an agricultural and business center, and is no longer dominated by the miners, and it might be supposed that the old feeling would no longer exist. Pong Bong, an intelligent Chinaman, who went from this city to start a laundry in the district, found to the contrary. He did not know of the old rule, and on his arrival asked where he could find the Chinese colony. Learning there was none, he sought rooming houses, but was turned away from all. He was being followed about by a crowd in which there was much hostility evident when a policeman picked him up. He went to police headquarters and was there advised that he would better accept the protection of the jail over night. He did so, and next morning took the first train for Butte.

FRATERNAL HOMES ARE THE PRIDE OF SPRINGFIELD

The Upper Picture Shows the Masonic Home, the Center That of the Odd Fellows', and the Lower the Knights of Pythias.

By reason of the location in Springfield of the state fraternal homes of the Masonic, Odd Fellows and Pythian orders, that city is going to be the Mecca during the week of June 17 of thousands of old soldiers and others who do not ordinarily attend the state encampments of the G. A. R.

This fact was one of the powerful factors which entered into the selection of Springfield as the encampment city for 1912. These three great institutions annually attract thousands of visitors from all parts of the state. It will be difficult to find a veteran of the Civil war who is not a member of one of the three orders represented by these homes.

Negotiations are now on foot which it is hoped will add a fourth home to those already located in Springfield. The Loyal Order of Moose proposes the erection of a huge national home and university, and Springfield is the most aggressive bidder for the location.

On Wednesday evening a big camp fire will be held in the tabernacle, which will seat between 7,000 and 8,000 people. Among the chief speakers will be Governor Harmon, former United States Senator Joseph B. Foraker, General R. P. Kennedy and other distinguished men. Besides the speaking there will be an elaborate musical program. The Billy Sunday choir will sing and a large band will play. Wednesday evening there will be a great fireworks display at Spring Grove park.

The final business sessions of the different bodies will be held on Thursday morning.

It is probable that another big camp fire will be held in the evening, when a number of interesting features will be provided for the old soldiers and the members of the other organizations. As there are so many points of interest to visit about Springfield, it is expected that most of the delegates will remain over until Friday before departing for their homes.

OF INTEREST TO G. A. R. MEN.

Ohio veterans who will come to Springfield for the annual encampment, Department of Ohio, G. A. R., which meets June 17 and extends throughout that week, will find much to interest them.

Springfield is perhaps the most noted city in the world for the manufacture of agricultural implements. Springfield manufactures more farm machinery than any other city in the world except Chicago.

Every farm tool and machine except the plow is made in Springfield. There is probably no farmer among the veterans of Ohio who has not at some time or another used an implement made in Springfield. If he has not at some previous time visited some of Springfield's factories he will doubtless seize upon the opportunity to do so when he comes in June.

Springfield has many other industrial interests. She stands high in the list of manufacturing cities for the production of turbine water wheels, piano plates, metallic caskets, gas and gasoline engines, electric fans, machine tools, emery wheels.

HAIRY MAN FIRST SETTLER

Garden of Eden Located Near South Pole by Noted English Scientist.

London.—After a study of the different parts of the skeletons, Professor Keith announces that the prehistoric men whose remains have been discovered recently in Kent resembled the native Australians, writes a London correspondent. This is true, he says, of paleolithic man in Europe. He adds that in Tasmania and Australia fifty years ago there existed, side by side, comparatively early stages of the division of the primitive human race into negroes and non-negroes.

As to the color of the original man, he was, strictly speaking, neither white nor black, but he was more hairy than any human race now living. Nor is it unlikely that men in the most ancient times dwelt in the south polar regions. Professor Keith regards some of the original Tasmanians as the earliest historical types of the negro. This type has been extinct only half a century. Still, this Tasmanian was, according to Professor Keith, a very highly evolved man, from a zoological point of view. He regards it as a striking fact that in every large area where primitive races are found in the southern half of the old world, neighboring representatives of the Tasmanian and Australian stocks are also to be found.

This would indicate that the so-called "seat of the human race"—the Garden of Eden, as many would say—was not in Asia at all, and not even in the Mediterranean basin, as was held by the late Professor Daniel G. Brinton, the American ethnologist, but may have been away off down toward the south pole.

The latest researches make it convincingly clear, asserts Professor Keith, that the outline of the brain chamber of the negro skull is totally different from that of apes and of the neanderthal, or extremely ancient European men. The broad and short faces and prominent cheek bones of the negro, he says, depend on the robust development of the teeth and muscles of mastication. The prominent jaws are due partly but not entirely to the size of the teeth. The protuberant jaws give not only large mouth and palate, but ample passage for air through nose and throat. The small jaws of Europeans, according to the professor, are due to an arrest of normal growth providing a place for the permanent teeth.

CITY STILL BARS CHINESE

Celestial Who Invaded Wallace, Idaho, Had to Sleep in the Jail.

Butte, Mont.—A Chinaman in Butte has first-hand knowledge that the ban put on his race in the Coeur d'Alene mining district in 1894 is still in effect. He spent one night in Wallace, the center of the district, and then returned to Butte.

The Chinamen were driven out of the district in 1894, when the mine owners attempted to use them to supplant white men. It was then decided by the union miners, a set of men who had used desperate methods in strikes, that no Chinaman should ever be permitted to live there.

Since that time Wallace has grown from a mining camp into an agricultural and business center, and is no longer dominated by the miners, and it might be supposed that the old feeling would no longer exist. Pong Bong, an intelligent Chinaman, who went from this city to start a laundry in the district, found to the contrary. He did not know of the old rule, and on his arrival asked where he could find the Chinese colony. Learning there was none, he sought rooming houses, but was turned away from all. He was being followed about by a crowd in which there was much hostility evident when a policeman picked him up. He went to police headquarters and was there advised that he would better accept the protection of the jail over night. He did so, and next morning took the first train for Butte.

Springfield Will Extend Hand of Welcome to All Her Guests.

TO BE GREETED ON EVERY SIDE

Headquarters Selected For the Ohio Department of the Grand Army and Affiliated Societies—Great Parade and Big Camp Fires Among the Chief Features of the Week—Musical Program an Elaborate One.

Citizens of Springfield and Clark county, O., will vie with each other in welcoming the officers and delegations of the Department of Ohio, Grand Army of the Republic, and associate bodies, upon their arrival Monday, June 17.

The headquarters of the Department of Ohio, G. A. R., will be at the Bookwalter hotel, corner of Lime-stone and High streets; the Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Sons of Veterans, at the Fountain hotel, corner of Fountain avenue and Washington street; the Daughters of Veterans and Ladies' Auxiliary will also be quartered at the Fountain hotel.

On Tuesday morning, June 18, the department officers of the Women's Relief Corps will present a handsome flag to the Springfield high school, with appropriate exercises. This will take place in the auditorium of the handsome $300,000 high school, which was completed last year.

In the afternoon the Ladies of the Grand Army will present a life-size portrait of Abraham Lincoln to the Warder free library.

Reception to Grand Officers.

In the evening the president and state officers of the Women's Relief corps will give a reception to the Department Commander of the Grand Army and his staff.

This is true, he says, of paleolithic man in Europe. He adds that in Tasmania and Australia fifty years ago there existed, side by side, comparatively early stages of the division of the primitive human race into negroes and non-negroes.

As to the color of the original man, he was, strictly speaking, neither white nor black, but he was more hairy than any human race now living. Nor is it unlikely that men in the most ancient times dwelt in the south polar regions. Professor Keith regards some of the original Tasmanians as the earliest historical types of the negro. This type has been extinct only half a century. Still, this Tasmanian was, according to Professor Keith, a very highly evolved man, from a zoological point of view. He regards it as a striking fact that in every large area where primitive races are found in the southern half of the old world, neighboring representatives of the Tasmanian and Australian stocks are also to be found.

This would indicate that the so-called "seat of the human race"—the Garden of Eden, as many would say—was not in Asia at all, and not even in the Mediterranean basin, as was held by the late Professor Daniel G. Brinton, the American ethnologist, but may have been away off down toward the south pole.

The latest researches make it convincingly clear, asserts Professor Keith, that the outline of the brain chamber of the negro skull is totally different from that of apes and of the neanderthal, or extremely ancient European men. The broad and short faces and prominent cheek bones of the negro, he says, depend on the robust development of the teeth and muscles of mastication. The prominent jaws are due partly but not entirely to the size of the teeth. The protuberant jaws give not only large mouth and palate, but ample passage for air through nose and throat. The small jaws of Europeans, according to the professor, are due to an arrest of normal growth providing a place for the permanent teeth.

CITY STILL BARS CHINESE

Celestial Who Invaded Wallace, Idaho, Had to Sleep in the Jail.

Butte, Mont.—A Chinaman in Butte has first-hand knowledge that the ban put on his race in the Coeur d'Alene mining district in 1894 is still in effect. He spent one night in Wallace, the center of the district, and then returned to Butte.

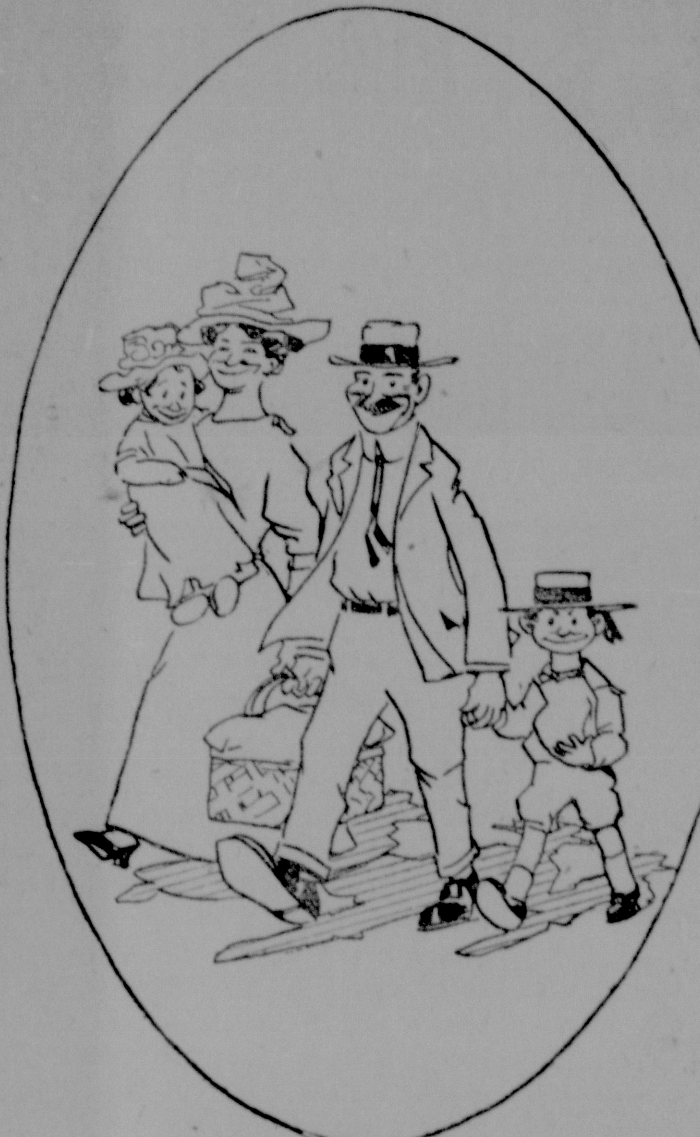

The Chinamen were driven out of the district in 1894, when the mine owners attempted to use them to supplant white men. It was then decided by the union miners, a set of men who had used desperate methods in strikes, that no Chinaman should ever be permitted to live there.

Since that time Wallace has grown from a mining camp into an agricultural and business center, and is no longer dominated by the miners, and it might be supposed that the old feeling would no longer exist. Pong Bong, an intelligent Chinaman, who went from this city to start a laundry in the district, found to the contrary. He did not know of the old rule, and on his arrival asked where he could find the Chinese colony. Learning there was none, he sought rooming houses, but was turned away from all. He was being followed about by a crowd in which there was much hostility evident when a policeman picked him up. He went to police headquarters and was there advised that he would better accept the protection of the jail over night. He did so, and next morning took the first train for Butte.

OHIO VETERANS MEET IN JUNE

Headquarters Selected For the Ohio Department of the Grand Army and Affiliated Societies—Great Parade and Big Camp Fires Among the Chief Features of the Week—Musical Program an Elaborate One.

Citizens of Springfield and Clark county, O., will vie with each other in welcoming the officers and delegations of the Department of Ohio, Grand Army of the Republic, and associate bodies, upon their arrival Monday, June 17.

The Headquarters of the Department of Ohio, G. A. R., will be at the Bookwalter hotel, corner of Line-stone and High streets; the Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Sons of Veterans, at the Fountain hotel, corner of Fountain avenue and Washington street; the Daughters of Veterans and Ladies' Auxiliary will also be quartered at the Fountain hotel.

On Tuesday morning, June 18, the department officers of the Women's Relief Corps will present a handsome flag to the Springfield high school, with appropriate exercises. This will take place in the auditorium of the handsome $300,000 high school, which was completed last year.

In the afternoon the Ladies of the Grand Army will present a life-size portrait of Abraham Lincoln to the Warde free library.

Reception to Grand Officers.

In the evening the president and state officers of the Women's Relief Corps will give a reception to the Department Commander of the Grand Army and his staff.

At 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning the first business session of all of the bodies will be held. The G. A. R. encampment will be held in the Columbia theater; the W. R. C. in the auditorium of the Springfield high school; the Sons of Veterans in the Pythian castle hall, in the Bushnell annex; the Woman's Auxiliary to the S. of V. in the I. O. O. F. hall, in the Union block; Daughters of Veterans in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall, in the Zimmerman building; the Ladies of the G. A. R. in the First United Presbyterian church.

Parades a Feature.

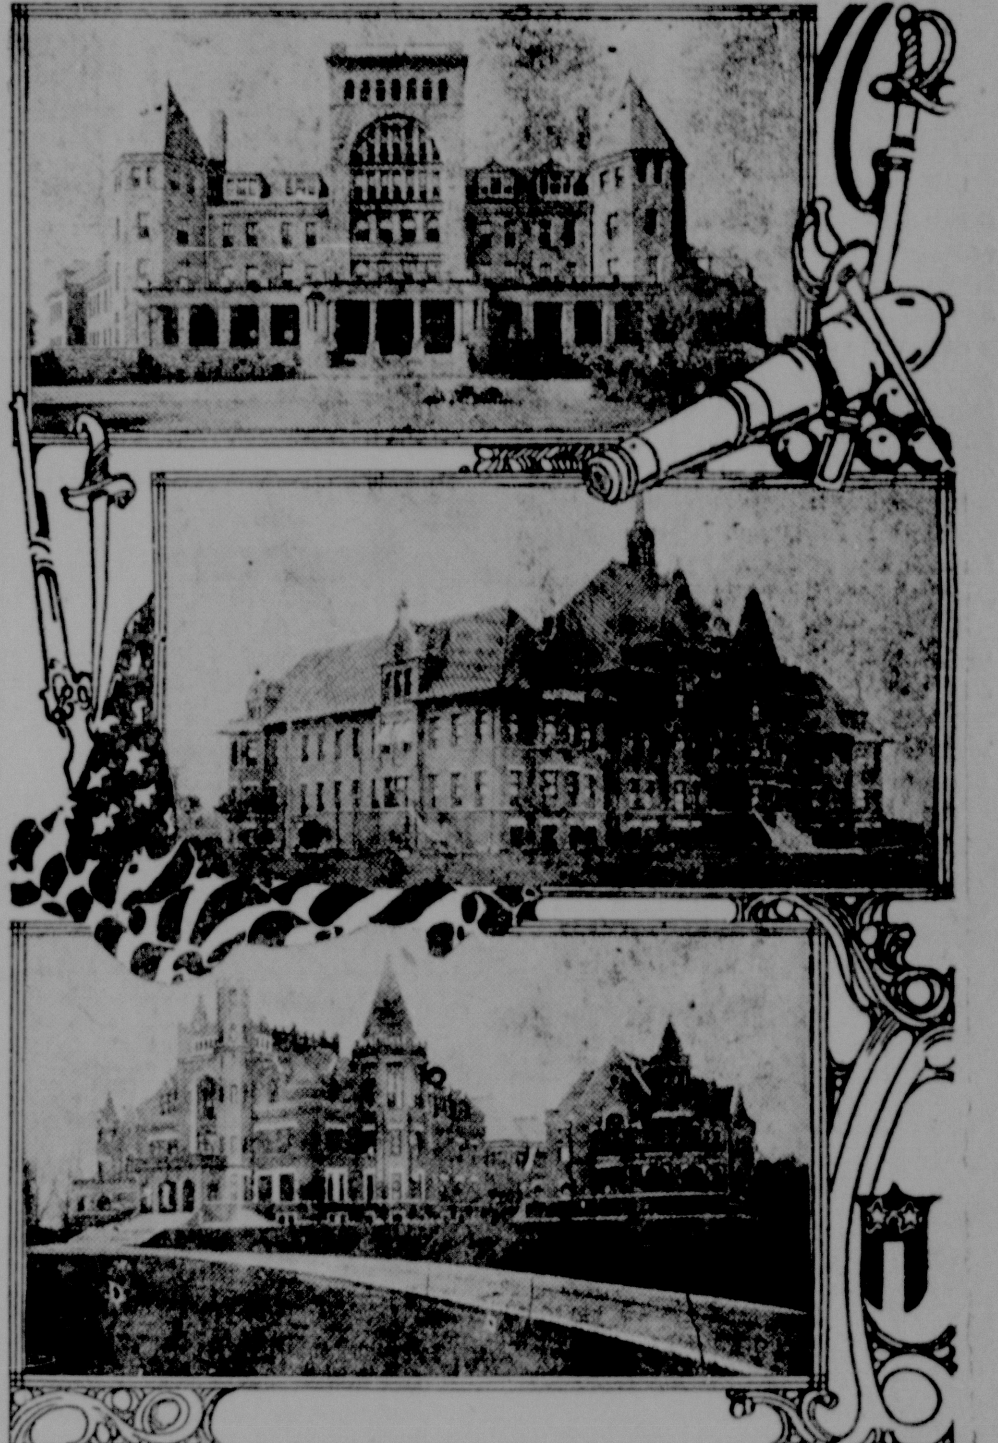

The chief feature of the week will be the great parades, which will be held Thursday. At 10 a. m. there will be a gorgeous industrial parade, in which Springfield manufacturers will participate. The annual G. A. R. military parade will be at 1:30 p. m.

In line will be the comrades of the Grand Army of Ohio; the Sons of Veterans; 700 boys and girls from the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia; battalion of uniformed women from Toledo; the cadets from the Ohio Odd Fellows' home and other organizations. It is estimated that there will be at least 25 bands and drum corps in the big procession.

Will Look After Veterans.

Governor Judson Harmon has granted the services of an efficient medical corps for the occasion. They will be from the Ohio National Guard. Headquarters will be pitched on Fountain square. There will be an ambulance

FRATERNAL HOMES ARE THE PRIDE OF SPRINGFIELD

The Upper Picture Shows the Masonic Home, the Center That of the Odd Fellows', and the Lower the Knights of Pythias.

By reason of the location in Springfield of the state fraternal homes of the Masonic, Odd Fellows and Pythian orders, that city is going to be the Mecca during the week of June 17 of thousands of old soldiers and others who do not ordinarily attend the state encampments of the G. A. R.

This fact was one of the powerful factors which entered into the selection of Springfield as the encampment city for 1912. These three great institutions annually attract thousands of visitors from all parts of the state. It will be difficult to find a veteran of the Civil war who is not a member of one of the three orders represented by these homes.

Negotiations are now on foot which it is hoped will add a fourth home to those already located in Springfield. The Loyal Order of Moose proposes the erection of a huge national home and university, and Springfield is the most aggressive bidder for the location.

On Wednesday evening a big camp fire will be held in the tabernacle, which will seat between 7,000 and 8,000 people. Among the chief speakers will be Governor Harmon, former United States Senator Joseph B. Foraker, General R. P. Kennedy and other distinguished men. Besides the speaking there will be an elaborate musical program. The Billy Sunday choir will sing and a large band will play. Wednesday evening there will be a great fireworks display at Spring Grove park.

The final business sessions of the different bodies will be held on Thursday morning.

It is probable that another big camp fire will be held in the evening, when a number of interesting features will be provided for the old soldiers and the members of the other organizations. As there are so many points of interest to visit about Springfield, it is expected that most of the delegates will remain over until Friday before departing for their homes.

Ohio veterans who will come to Springfield for the annual encampment, Department of Ohio, G. A. R., which meets June 17 and extends throughout that week, will find much to interest them.

Springfield is perhaps the most noted city in the world for the manufacture of agricultural implements. Springfield manufactures more farm machinery than any other city in the world except Chicago.

Every farm tool and machine except the plow is made in Springfield. There is probably no farmer among the veterans of Ohio who has not at some time or another used an implement made in Springfield. If he has not at some previous time visited some of Springfield's factories he will doubtless seize upon the opportunity to do so when he comes in June.

Springfield has many other industrial interests. She stands high in the list of manufacturing cities for the production of turbine water wheels, piano plates, metallic caskets, gas and gasoline engines, electric fans, machine tools, emery wheels.

Last Vote On the I. and R. Amendment

Percentages Are Cut Down by Constitutional Convention.

TANNEHILL IS UP IN ARMS

Represents Attempt to Attach Nonpartisan Ballot to His Direct Primary Proposal and Is Sustained by Delegates—Eby Has Brandnew Style of Judicial Recall, but It Fails to Meet Approval—Torrens Title Registering System Adopted.

Columbus, O., May 30.—By a vote of 85 to 14 the constitutional convention passed an initiative and referendum measure, but left the manner of its submission for consideration at today's session.

The I. and R. measure as passed cuts down the percentages, and though the single tax element tried desperately to get the initiative against the single tax out, they failed by an overwhelming vote.

The proposal provides that 3 per cent of the electors can petition for a law and have it submitted to the general assembly. If the legislature does not act or passes an amended act, the proposers may file 3 more per cent and have the act, with or without amendments, submitted to the people. This is called the Wisconsin plan, but does not contain all its safeguards. In scaling down from 12 to 10 per cent the constitutional initiative, there is a reduction of at least 20,000 signatures.

Tannehill Warm Up.

"I won't allow my neighbors to throw dead cats into my back yard," said Delegate Tannehill of Morgan county, in resisting the attempt of radicals to write into his direct primaries proposal the provision for nonpartisan elections of members of the general assembly. Earlier in the day the nonpartisan amendment, which was made a part of the initiative and referendum proposal and then reconsidered, was killed. Immediately radicals laid plans to tack it on Mr. Tannehill's proposal.

The convention, 56 to 49, stood by him and prevented the engrafting of the amendment. Mr. Ulmer proposed to make the primary ballot secret, so that the voter need not state his politics when voting at primaries, but was beaten overwhelmingly. Bitterest debate came when Judge Peck proposed to give the general assembly discretion of revoking the primary system. He declared primaries are a sham and a fraud and make for boss rule. His amendment was killed at

During consideration of Mr. Halfhill's proposal for changing the common pleas judicial system Mr. Eby brought in a brand-new system of recall. It provided that on petition of 12 per cent of the electors any case, civil or criminal, might be taken for trial into another county. It was killed.

Under the proposal, which passed over feeble opposition, each county will have at least one common pleas judge, but counties of less than 60,000 population, on a referendum vote, may combine the common pleas and probate courts.

The Knight proposal giving to school districts in cities the right to self-government was passed by a vote of 70 to 26.

The Jones proposal for the Torrens or Australian system of registering and guaranteeing land titles was reconsidered and passed. Other measures passed were by Mr. Helenkamp, allowing the state to go into the printing business; by Mr. Taggart, making the constitution more easily amendable, and by Mr. Weybrecht, to allow suits to be brought against the state without first obtaining leave from the general assembly.

More Waiters Go On Strike In Gotham

Proprietors Threaten to Close Swell Eating Places.

REFUSE UNION RECOGNITION

Make Proposition Covering Most of Demands Made by Striking Employees, but Stand Pat on Determination to Conduct Own Business. Kitchen and Pantry Employees Go Out in Sympathy With Hashlingers and Diners Face Famine.

New York, May 30.—That the International Hotel Workers' union was not bluffing when its officers declared that it would cripple the fashionable eating establishments of the city, is becoming a matter of general belief. After a day of threats and hints all waiters, busses, pantry help and kitchen men of the Waldorf, not including the chefs, walked out and in rapid succession came the similar forces from the Breslin, Rector's and the Gotham, who were out for a little while. There were more rumors that other big hotels and restaurants are to suffer within the next 24 hours, and unless the union is recognized by the proprietors the strikes will continue until there will not be a fashionable eating establishment doing its usual business in the city.

Proposition Is Submitted.

Against this proposition later there came word from the Hotel Men's association that there might be a backfire in the fight. The assertion was made that five of the largest hotels of the city have practically agreed that if they find themselves doing business at too great inconvenience to themselves and to their patrons they will deliberately shut down the culinary departments of their establishments, said departments to remain closed until the waiters come to their senses. The names of the hotels were not given officially, and the individual managements declined to discuss that phase of the situation. It was said that these hotels jointly employ regularly about 1,450 first-class waiters, with busses, and that they are the most sought after of all positions by the highly trained specialists who are now suffering from the strike epidemic. In the meantime the hotels in question and other establishments have made an offer to their men which practically amounts to a concession of all the union demands except that there is a positive refusal to recognize the union or union interference in the management of the places.

The 400 waiters, pantry men, busses and minor kitchen men of the Waldorf also went out.

WAITERS' STRIKE GROWS

New York Hotel Men Plan to Import Negroes.

New York, May 31.—The waiters, busses, pantry and kitchen helpers of six large hotels, a big restaurant and a club joined the ranks of the striking hotel workers. This time the Plaza, the Gotham, the St. Regis, the Astor, the Imperial and the Prince George found themselves temporarily stripped of a serving force, and at the same time the restaurant of Louis Martin and the Elks' club suffered.

The number of men who went out was about 900, which, added to those who are on strike from the Belmont, Knickerbocker, the Holland and the Waldorf-Astoria, made about 1,500 men on strike altogether, men who as a rule regard it as a bad day when they make less than $5.

Manager Fred Sterry of the Plaza slowed the hotel men the way to break the strike, they think, and as a result it is safe to say that if the strike does continue to spread, if the present force of strikebreakers proves ineffective, New York may experience an invasion of the highly-trained and wholly willing negro waiter from the south. Mr. Sterry, who runs hotels at Hot Springs and Palm Beach, had slipped about 40 negroes into his hotel, and when he precipitated his strike these men went on duty on the floor service, as it is called. They got away with the job without any trouble, for all have had experience not only in the winter resorts, but at Saratoga and other places, where they have never lost a foothold.

Thomas McKinney, 215 First St., Piqua, a veteran of the Civil War, was laid up with backache, rheumatic pains across the hips, spells of dizziness, and other grave symptoms of kidney disorder. He was nervous, in constant misery, and medicine failed to help him. He finally took Foley Kidney Pills and says: "They cured me in one month of all my trouble and I again feel well in every respect." Blackmer & Tanquary.

Make Proposition Covering Most of Demands Made by Striking Employees, but Stand Pat on Determination to Conduct Own Business. Kitchen and Pantry Employees Go Out in Sympathy With Hashslingers and Diners Face Famine.

New York, May 30.—That the International Hotel Workers' union was not bluffing when its officers declared that it would cripple the fashionable eating establishments of the city, is becoming a matter of general belief. After a day of threats and hints all waiters, busses, pantry help and kitchen men of the Waldorf, not including the chefs, walked out and in rapid succession came the similar forces from the Breslin, Rector's and the Gotham, who were out for a little while. There were more rumors that other big hotels and restaurants are to suffer within the next 24 hours, and unless the union is recognized by the proprietors the strikes will continue until there will not be a fashionable eating establishment doing its usual business in the city.

Proposition Is Submitted.

Against this proposition later there came word from the Hotel Men's association that there might be a backfire in the fight. The assertion was made that five of the largest hotels of the city have practically agreed that if they find themselves doing business at too great inconvenience to themselves and to their patrons they will deliberately shut down the culinary departments of their establishments, said departments to remain closed until the waiters come to their senses. The names of the hotels were not given officially, and the individual managements declined to discuss that phase of the situation. It was said that these hotels jointly employ regularly about 1,450 first-class waiters, with busses, and that they are the most sought after of all positions by the highly trained specialists who are now suffering from the strike epidemic. In the meantime the hotels in question and other establishments have made an offer to their men which practically amounts to a concession of all the union demands except that there is a positive refusal to recognize the union or union interference in the management of the places.

The 400 waiters, pantrymen, busses and minor kitchen men of the Waldorf also went out.

New York Hotel Men Plan to Import Negroes.

New York, May 31.—The waiters, busses, pantry and kitchen helpers of six large hotels, a big restaurant and a club joined the ranks of the striking hotel workers. This time the Plaza, the Gotham, the St. Regis, the Astor, the Imperial and the Prince George found themselves temporarily stripped of a serving force, and at the same time the restaurant of Louis Martin and the Elks' club suffered.

The number of men who went out was about 900, which, added to those who are on strike from the Belmont, Knickerbocker, the Holland and the Waldorf-Astoria, made about 1,500 men on strike altogether, men who as a rule regard it as a bad day when they make less than $5.

Manager Fred Sterry of the Plaza showed the hotel men the way to break the strike, they think, and as a result it is safe to say that if the strike does continue to spread, if the present force of strikebreakers proves ineffective, New York may experience an invasion of the highly-trained and wholly willing negro waiter from the south. Mr. Sterry, who runs hotels at Hot Springs and Palm Beach, had slipped about 40 negroes into his hotel, and when he precipitated his strike these men went on duty on the floor service, as it is called. They got away with the job without any trouble, for all have had experience not only in the winter resorts, but at Saratoga and other places, where they have never lost a foothold.

Thomas McKinney, 215 First St., Piqua, a veteran of the Civil War, was laid up with backache, rheumatic pains across the hips, spells of dizziness, and other grave symptoms of kidney disorder. He was nervous, in constant misery, and medicine failed to help him. He finally took Foley Kidney Pills and says: "They cured me in one month of all my trouble and I again feel well in every respect." Blackmer & Tanquary.

Auto Hurls Boy Into River.
Youngstown, O., May 31.—An unidentified boy is thought to have been knocked into the Mahoning river from the Market street viaduct when an automobile struck a buggy driven by J. B. Malmesbury and wrecked it. Malmesbury was probably fatally injured and was taken to his home. The police are preparing to drag the river and a general alarm has been sent out for the automobilist.

Finds None Worthy.

Columbus, O., May 31.—That the prison records of the several veterans at the state penitentiary who had applied for a Memorial day pardon do not show the men worthy of release, is the opinion of Governor Harmon. Governor Harmon said that while he was in favor of granting a pardon to a veteran on this day, he had personally investigated the records of the applicants and had found none of them worthy of consideration.

Last Vote On the I. and R. Amendment

Percentages Are Cut Down by Constitutional Convention.

TANNEHILL IS UP IN ARMS

Presents Attempt to Attach Nonpartisan Ballot to His Direct Primary Proposal and Is Sustained by Delegates—Eby Has Brandnew Style of Judicial Recall, but It Fails to Meet Approval—Torrens Title Registering System Adopted.

Columbus, O., May 30.—By a vote of 85 to 14 the constitutional convention passed an initiative and referendum measure, but left the manner of its submission for consideration at today's session.

The I. and R. measure as passed cuts down the percentages, and though the single tax element tried desperately to get the initiative against the single tax out, they failed by an overwhelming vote.

The proposal provides that 3 per cent of the electors can petition for a law and have it submitted to the general assembly. If the legislature does not act or passes an amended act, the proposers may file 3 more per cent and have the act, with or without amendments, submitted to the people. This is called the Wisconsin plan, but does not contain all its safeguards. In scaling down from 12 to 10 per cent the constitutional initiative, there is a reduction of at least 20,000 signatures.

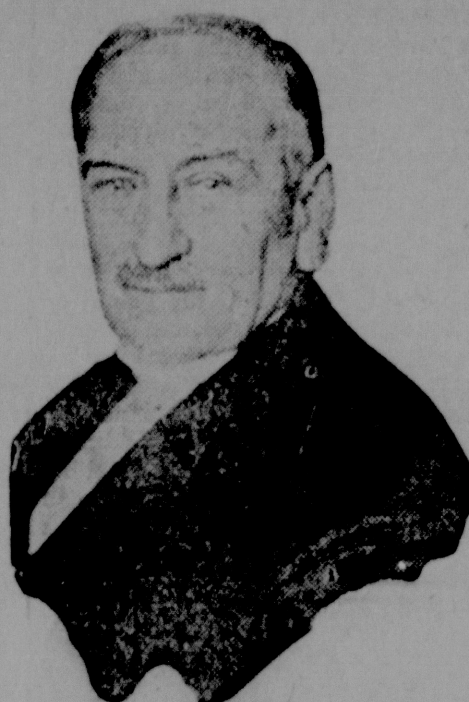

Tannehill Warm Up.

"I won't allow my neighbors to throw dead cats into my back yard," said Delegate Tannehill of Morgan county, in resisting the attempt of radicals to write into his direct primaries proposal the provision for nonpartisan elections of members of the general assembly. Earlier in the day the nonpartisan amendment, which was made a part of the initiative and referendum proposal and then reconsidered, was killed. Immediately radicals laid plans to tack it on Mr. Tannehill's proposal.

The convention, 56 to 49, stood by him and prevented the engrafting of the amendment. Mr. Ulmer proposed to make the primary ballot secret, so that the voter need not state his politics when voting at primaries, but was beaten overwhelmingly. Bitterest debate came when Judge Peck proposed to give the general assembly discretion of revoking the primary system. He declared primaries are a sham and a fraud and make for boss rule. His amendment was killed after Mr. Tannehill and others declared it would vitiate the proposal. The proposal, which requires direct nominations in all political divisions save municipalities and townships, carried by a big vote.

Eby Springs New One.

During consideration of Mr. Halfhill's proposal for changing the common pleas judicial system Mr. Eby brought in a brand-new system of recall. It provided that on petition of 12 per cent of the electors any case, civil or criminal, might be taken for trial into another county. It was killed.

Under the proposal, which passed over feeble opposition, each county will have at least one common pleas judge, but counties of less than 60,000 population, on a referendum vote, may combine the common pleas and probate courts.

The Knight proposal giving to school districts in cities the right to self-government was passed by a vote of 79 to 26.

The Jones proposal for the Torrens or Australian system of registering and guaranteeing land titles was reconsidered and passed. Other measures passed were by Mr. Helenkamp, allowing the state to go into the printing business; by Mr. Taggart, making the constitution more easily amendable, and by Mr. Weybrecht, to allow suits to be brought against the state without first obtaining leave from the general assembly.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Burglar Admits Guilt.

Columbus, O., May 30.—John Schultz, the paroled penitentiary convict shot by Detective Landacre while attempting to escape from the police at the residence of I. Cramer, which he had burglarized, pleaded guilty to burglary and was held to the grand jury under $2,500 bond. The same grand jury which will probe the Zollinger murder and the Rex shortage cases will take up Schultz's case Monday. The plan now is to indict, try and send Schultz back to the pen on the new charge. Life imprisonment is the extreme sentence he may get.

Cleveland Prisoner Paroled.

Columbus, O., May 30.—Joseph Klebaum, who served during the war with Spain, doing five years in the pen from Cleveland for stealing a few small boxes of candy from a freight train, was given the Memorial day parole by the board of administration, and this morning breathed the air of freedom the first time since Feb. 22, 1911.

Forgotten by Jailor; Nearly Starves. Newark, O., May 30.—William Brennan, 59, was rescued from the village lockup at Johnstown, where he had been forgotten after being given a night's lodging eight days ago. Brennan was nearly famished, having subsisted on a small piece of bologna, dry bread and a small jug of water during his eight days' confinement.

Steubenville, O., May 30.—Henry Gregg, 58, for 30 years a practicing attorney, died here. He was nominated by the Republicans for judge of the common pleas court, the one ambition of his life. He has served as prosecuting attorney.

Jurist's Son Dies in Field.

Cleveland, O., May 30.—Frederick T. Beer, 49, a well-known attorney, was found dead in a field in South Euclid, near here. Beer was troubled with heart disease. He was a son of Judge Thomas Beer of Bucyrus, a well-known jurist.

Killed in Powder Explosion.
